FIXING FOR THE FIGHT.

Crowds of New York Statesmen Leaving for Cincinnati.

The Tilden Contingent Speeding to the Bat le-Ground.

Preceedings of the Indiana Republican State Convention.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, June 17.—Tammanites and anti-Tammanites are leaving for Cincinnati in great numbers, and New York for the remainder of this week and all of next will be as quiet as the most peaceful village. Brooklyn Democrats, by act of the Legislature, are put out of office. The want of funds there will keep many at home. Albany's Tilden contingent started in three cars.

Indiana Republicans.

INDIANAPOLIS, IND., June 17.—The Republican State Convention met at 10 o'clock this morning in the wigwam, and was called to order by Hon. John C. New, chairman of the State Central Committee. After an invocation by Rev. Myron W. Reid, of the First Presbyterian Church, the counties were called.

Gen. Grose, chairman of the Committee on Organization, reported for permanent chairman W. H. Calkins, M. C., and John W. Ray permanent secretary. Report unanimously adopted.

The mention of Gen. Garfield's name by the President produced enthusiastic and prolonged cheering.

PLATFORM AND RESOLUTIONS.

The following platform and resolutions were adopted:

The Republicans of Indiana, in convention assembled, reaffirm the truth of the delarations made and fully endorse the resolutions adopted by the National Convention assembled at Chicago on the 2d of June, 1880. In the nomisee of the Chicago Convention we recognize a representative man of the Republican party and a statesman who may well be entrusted with the administration of our National Government, and we heartily commend them to the support of the people.

Resolved, That, as an inflexible principle of personal liberty, we maintain the right of locomotion, including the right of foreigners to emigrate hither and become American citizens and the right of native-born citizens to migrate from one State to another without vexatious investigation as to their motive for so doing.

Resolved, That we favor such State legislation as will protect the people from imposition by the dishonest procurement of promissory notes payable in bank, without, however, impairing the validity of commercial credits.

Resolved, That we congratulate the people of Indiana upon the adoption of the constitutional amendments recently submitted, under which, by wise legislation, the purity of the ballot box may be secured, economy in the government attained, the speedy administration of justice provided for and extravagant municipal taxation prevented, and we point to the open hostility of the leaders of the Democratic party to these salutary provisions as evidence of the insincerity of their professions, their unfaithfulness to the public welfare and their unfitness to administer the State government, recognizing, at the same time, the patriotism and independence of the large mass of the Democratic party who gave those amendments their support.

Resolved, That we reaffirm our devotion to the system of free, common, unsectarian schools as the source of popular intelligence, and indispensable to the perpetuity of free government.

Resolved, That the gratitude of the country to the brave men who periled their lives for the preservation of the Union is a perpetual debt which must never be forgotten, and the duty of Congress to embody this sentiment in the form of laws for their substantial benefit is imperative.

Resolved, That we favor all proper measures tending to develop the great agricultural and mineral resources of our State, and especially such wise and wholesome laws as will insure the comfort and safety of those engaged in the dangerous work of mining, and, recognizing existing defects in our laws, we favor such further legislation as will secure to all laborers a speedy and effectual enforcement of their rights as against all corporations and individuals.

NOMINATIONS.

The convention then proceeded with the nomination for candidates for the State ticket.

For Governor the following names were presented: Gen. A. D. Streight, of Marion county; Hon. W. R. McKeen, of Vigo; Dr. A. O. Burgess, of Marion; Hon. A. G. Porter, of Marion; Hon. Thos. Stansford, of Laporte; Hon. John M. Butler and Gen. W. Q. Gresham, of Marion, and Hon. Wm. Cumback, of Decatur county.

The first ballot resulted as follows: Streight, 467 1-2; Porter, 216 1-2; Burgess, 100 1-2; Stansford, 34; McKeen, 149; Butler, 51 1-2; Gresham, 14; Cumback, 11. Second ballot, no choice. On the third ballot Hon. Albert G. Porter was nominated, receiving 637 1-2 votes.

For Lieutenant-Governor, Thos. Hanna, of Putnam.

For Judge of the Supreme Court, Third District—Hon. Byron K. Elliott, of Marion.

For Judge of the Supreme Court, Fifth District, Wm. A. Woods, of Elkhart.

Killed With a Banjo.

CINCINNATI, June 17.—About half-past 12 o'clock this morning, at No. 300 West Fifth street, Wm. Condon, a variety performer at one of the concert saloons, quarreled with Lou Perry, a girl with whom he had been living a short time, and struck her in the face with a banjo. The brass rim crushed her skull, and she died in half an hour. The crime was kept concealed for some time, but Condon was arrested.

Death of an ex-United States Senator.

KEOKUK, June 17.—Judge J. B. Howell died at his residence here this morning at 4 o'clock. He was born July 4, 1816, was raised near Newark, Ohio, graduated from Miami University in 1837, studied law with Benjamin H. Hunter, came to Iowa and settled at Keosauqua and began the practice of the law. He soon came one of the leaders of the Whig party in Iowa, was editor of several papers, including the Gate City of this place. In 1870 he was elected to the United States Senate to succeed Jas. W. Grimes. For some years past, and until the expiration of its term of existence in March last, he was one of the Commissioners of Southern Claims. He came home from Washington a few weeks ago in bad health, and has been gradually sinking since.

ITEMS FROM ARKANSAS.

Popular Excitement Over a Horrible Crime—The Greenback Convention.

LITTLE ROCK, ARK., June 17.—A white woman named Stevens, living one mile from Pine Bluff, was ravished and afterwards murdered yesterday morning. Circumstances pointed to and led to the arrest of John Crier and one Jackson—negroes, and G. W. Dalton and Robert Connolly whites. Dalton will probably be released. Connolly and Mrs. Stevens have been living together. The people are much excited, and if the evidence at the examination is strong Judge Lynch may put an end to the case.

At last night's session the Greenback State Convention adopted a platform and nominated the following State ticket: For Governor, Wm. P. Parks, of Lafayette; Secretary of State, Chas. E. Tobey, of Hope; Treasurer, Wm. A. Watson, of Washington; Auditor, Chas. E. Cunningham, of Pulaski; Land Commissioner, Wilshire Riley, of White; Superintendent of Instructions, Peter Brugman, of Pulaski; Chief Justice, J. Callcavish, of Phillips; Chancery Clerk, W. T. Halloway, of White. All the nominees were present and accepted. State Central Committee: C. E. Cunningham, E. D. Boyd, D. W. Alker, H. Ferguson, F. M. Chrisman, H. H. Jackson, T. M. Milam and A. Anderson.

A MAD-HOUSE SCANDAL.

Investigating the Charges Against Officers of the Ohio Asylum.

COLUMBUS, O., June 17.—Members of the Board of State Charities met here to-day to investigate the charges against Superintendent, Firestone and the trustees of the Central Lunatic Asylum. Affidavits were filed by Leonora Bowes, formerly an attendant at the asylum, charging that tainted meat and improper food were furnished to patients, that the matron grossly neglected her duties, that money sent to patients was never accounted for, that the State property was appropriated by the matron, that patients were compelled to sleep on the floor for want of proper bedding, that an abortion was performed upon a female patient by order of Supt. Firestone, that Doctor Gailey and the assistant physician at the asylum held illicit intercourse with a female patient, and that Firestone allowed the record of this fact to be destroyed, and cruelty and neglect of patients. Doctor Sparrow, late an assistant physician at the asylum, filed an affidavit charging that C. P. L. Butler, one of the trustees of the asylum, had been interested in contracting for the asylum supplies, and that Geo. W. Morgan, another trustee, had demanded and received special attention for his daughter, a patient in said institution.

PLOTTING FOR POWER.

A Legitimist Conspiracy Exposed in France.

Fighting Commenced in Buenos Ayres.

The Case of Bradlaugh in the English Parliament.

France.

PARIS, June 17.—The Left Center have unanimously pronounced against amnesty. A deputation of the Republican Left had an interview with De Freycinet last evening to urge the Government to take the initiative in bringing forward amnesty at the meeting of the Deputies of the Republican Left. Sixty-five voted for immediate discussion of amnesty, 15 against, and 15 abstained from voting. At a meeting of the committee on the Tran-Sahara Railroad it was resolved to ask the Chamber of Deputies for a further grant of 60,000f. in order that engineers may start for Africa immediately to avail themselves of the fine season.

SPECIE.

PARIS, June 17.—Specie in the Bank of France increased 1,414,000 francs during the past week.

England.

LONDON, June 17.—The report of the committee of the House of Commons in the case of Bradlaugh states there is no precedent whatever for the refusal of the House to allow a member to take the parliamentary oath. The committee hold that the mere compliance of Bradlaugh with the form used when the oath is taken would not be a taking of the oath, and that the House can and ought to prevent him from going through such form. Therefore the committee advise that he be allowed to affirm.

BULLION.

Bullion in the Bank of England increased £65,400 the past week. Proportion of Bank of England reserve to liability, 50 15-16 per cent.

Germany.

For Lake Region, slightly warmer, clear or partly cloudy weather, light variable winds in east district, stationary in west district, generally lower barometer. For Upper Mississippi and Lower Missouri Valleys, warmer, clear or partly cloudy weather, winds mostly from south to east, falling barometer.

THE LOTTERIES.

Meeting of Their Attorneys and the Board of Police Commissioners.

The Appellate Court's decisions in the lottery cases were so totally unexpected by the lottery men that no means had been taken to guard against their further prosecution and imprisonment. During a period of thirty years the Supreme Court invariably decided in favor of the lottery companies, and the attorneys for the Missouri company, Judges Krum, Broadhead and Clover and J. G. Lodge, were so confident of again meeting with success that they advised their clients to continue operations as usual. When they learned of their misapprehension they immediately began to devise means for the protection of their clients. Having apprised the Board of Police Commissioners of their desire to effect some arrangement for the object mentioned, a special meeting of the board, at which Col. Armstrong, Basil Duke, Judge Finney and Leslie Moffett were present, was held this morning. The representatives of the Missouri State Lottery Company and also of the Academy of Music stated that all costs in the cases already tried would be paid if the prosecution of venders and of other unfortunate employes of the companies were estopped. Judge Wm. C. Jones, on behalf of his clients, proposed to compromise the cases now pending against several persons formerly connected with the Academy of Music. As previously stated, all these men were of the opinion that they had a legal right to do a lottery business, and that their claim would be sustained as just by the higher tribunal in conformity with the act of the Legislature under which they had been given their former privilege, and in accordance with the precedents which it had already established. Thus, being morally innocent of intent to violate the laws, however guilty they may be according to those same laws, they should not be made to suffer to the same extent as if they were culpable according to the rulings of both law and equity. This argument and others of about the same tenor were advanced by the lawyers, who also made use of the fact that the lottery companies have discontinued business and intend to abide the decision. The board took the matter under advisement.

THE SHAM BATTLE.

It Will Take Place the Fifth of July at the Race Track.

The sham battle may now be regarded as a fixed fact. An agreement has been reached by the various committees of the National Guard. It has been decided to go into encampment at Forest Park on the evening of Friday, the 2d of July, until Tuesday, the 6th, four days. The sham battle will take place on Monday, the 5th of July, at the Cote Brilliante Jockey Grounds. The race grounds were engaged of Mr. Sam Ecker this morning for that date. Strenuous endeavors will be made to have the sham battle on a far larger scale than the one last year. Twenty-three companies have already signified their intention of participating—six of which belong outside of St. Louis. Indications all point to a most successful encampment and sham fight.

Rochow's Resignation.

Charles Rochow, of whom a morning paper spoke in a manner reflecting damagingly on his character, was one of the best police sergeants on the force and was liked by all his fellow officers, both superiors and subordinates. He is the officer to whom Carondelet citizens gave a gold shield during the strike. He obtained thirty days' leave of absence from the Board of Commissioners about a month ago for the purpose of trying the superintendency of the labor of the Vulcan Iron Works, a position which had been tendered him unsolicited at the wages of $1,800 yearly, or $600 more than he could make on the force. It seems that he likes his work, for a few days ago he requested that he be allowed to resign. The Police Commissioners think the works may shut down, and, therefore, they desire that Rochow receive an extension of his leave of absence in order that in the event of his being thrown out of employment, temporarily, at the works, he can again take up his old business.

Ancient Order of Hibernians.

The Ancient Order of Hibernians, division No. 3, held their annual meeting for the election of officers for the ensuing year at St. John's Hall, Sixteenth and Walnut streets, last night. Francis McFarland was unanimously elected president. This will make the fourth term he has been annually elected to the chair without intermission. E. J. McDonald was elected vice-president, Judge P. J. Taaffe treasurer, and Dennis Hickey financial secretary. The election of recording secretary was laid over until the next regular meeting. This division of the order is in a very flourishing condition and has got a sound treasury.

Court Notes.

Circuit Court No. 1 has adjourned until Tuesday, June 22d.

Fredric Bremermann, a native of Germany, was naturalized in Court No. 3 to-day.

In the case of Oberves. Lewis & Co., the Court refused to grant the motion made by the defendant for arrest of judgment.

Michael Deiss, deceased, left a will, under which his wife, Maria Elizabeth Deiss, inherits all his property, both real and personal.

Columbia Snowden brought an action in the Circuit Court this morning, and asks for a decree on the ground that her husband, William E. Snowden, is addicted to the pernicious habit of writing love-letters to other women. William, it appears, was not sagacious enough to cover his tracks.

DR. C. W. BENSON, so widely known as the discoverer of the CELERY AND CHAMOMILE PILLS, for the cure of sick headache, nervous headache, neuralgia, nervous paralysis, and indigestion, has opened an office at Catlin's drug store, corner of Sixth and Washington avenue, to supply both the retail and wholesale demand. No charge for advice to those calling for Pills. Price 50 cents a box, or six boxes for $2 50. Postage to any address. Dr. Benson is not here for the purpose of practicing medicine, but to introduce into St. Louis and the great Southwest his valuable preparations, for nervous diseases and indigestion, which have gained such an enviable reputation in the East.

East St. Louis.

Last evening 'Squire Eggman united in matrimony Carl Stamm, of St. Louis, to Miss Caroline Heber, of East St. Louis.

The Island Fire Company will give a grand moonlight excursion on the ferryboat East St. Louis next Tuesday evening, June 22.

Austin Mackin, aged fifty-three years, was instantly killed yesterday at the Chicago and Alton railroad yard. He was engaged in transferring logs from one car to another, when one of the logs slid back, knocking him down. His head was caught between the log and some lying on the car, and was fearfully crushed. 'Squire Eggman held an inquest and returned a verdict in accordance with the above facts. The body was removed to Mackin's home, No. 1019 North Second, where his large family resides.

THEY are selling genuine "Manilla" hats, new shapes, for $3, at the Famous. Hatters ask $4 and $5 for them.

A Clever Project.

Certain parties from abroad are now engaged in erecting ice houses on Creve Cœur Lake, and it is reported that they are either directly or indirectly managing the railroad now in course of construction on the north side of Forest Park. The work is being vigorously pushed by capitalists who are supposed to be the projectors of both enterprises, and who undoubtedly expect to reap handsome returns from the combined institutions.

What the Public Expect of Census Takers.

As 25,000 names were overlooked after the census takers had finished their task in 1870, in the city of St. Louis, citizens are anxious that more than ordinary care should be exercised by officers who have that important work under their charge at the present time. Carelessness on the part of these gentlemen will be highly aggravating as well as inexcusable.

Linen and Seersucker Suits for Children, All styles, both plain and fancy, are $1 50, $1 75, $2 25 at Famous.

Mysteriously Disappeared.

Mrs. Amy Worth, a lady of sixty years, mysteriously disappeared from her home at 406 S. Fifteenth street, on Saturday last and has not been seen since. Her son, Adam Worth, a fireman, is greatly alarmed at her abrupt departure and prolonged absence, and entertains fears as to her mental condition and her safety.

BEPPO.

Why art thou sad, my Beppo? But last eve.
Here, at my feet, thy dear head on my breast,
I heard thee say thy heart could no more grieve,
Or feel the olden ennui or unrest.

What troubles thee? Am I not all thine own—
I so long sought, so sighed for, and so dear?
And do I not live but for thee alone?
"Thou hast seen Lippo, whom I loved last year"?

Well, what of that? Last year is naught to me—
'Tis swallowed in the ocean of the past.
Art thou not glad 'twas Lippo, and not thee,
Whose brief, bright day in that great gulf was cast?

Thy day is all before thee. Let no cloud,
Here, in the very morn of our delight,
Drift up from distant fancied skies, to shroud
Our run of love, whose radiance is so bright.

"Thou art not first"? Nay, and he who would be
Defeats his own heart's dearest purpose then.
No truer truth was ever told to thee:
Who has loved most, he best can love again.

Lips that have said "I love thee," know full well
The meaning of the words; and hearts respond
More fully to the magic of Love's spell
Who know its sweets by having once been fond.

If Lippo—or not he alone—has taught
The arts that please thee, wherefore art thou sad?
Since all my vast love-lore to thee is brought,
Look up and smile, my Beppo, and be glad!

ELLA WHEELER.

AMERICAN FORGERS ABROAD.

Dan Noble Gets Twenty Years' Service in England.

[From the New York Times.]

News has been received here of the conviction in London of the notorious sneak bond-robber, Dan Noble, and of his sentence to twenty years' imprisonment for forgery. Noble is regarded by detectives as the most skillful thief in his particular line that ever disgraced America. He has also the reputation for courage unusual among his class. He can always be counted on to fight desperately while the slightest chance remains. "He would as lief fight as eat," said a veteran detective, speaking of him yesterday. Noble was originally a "sporting" man. He was born in Elmira, where his relatives still dwell. Coming to this city, he opened a gambling-house, attended horse-races, and led a gang of repeaters for hire for some years. He then became a sneak-thief, becoming the leader of such men as Dutch Heinrich, Chauncey Johnson, Tim Lee, alias Red Tim, Tommy Mulligan and Whitey Bob. He was best known from his connection with the Lord bond-robbery and the Royal Insurance bond robbery, both of which were up among the millions. After the latter robbery, Noble went to Elmira, and spent money recklessly. He purchased a fine farm, built a house and bought a number of fast horses. He had been suspected from the first, but it was difficult to fasten the crime upon him. At length he was entrapped through an attempt to negotiate some of the stolen securities, and an arrest followed. He was tried three times for the crime, and was finally convicted and sentenced to five years at hard labor in Auburn Prison. After serving a year, he, Jimmy Hope, Jim Brady and several others escaped through the aid of Billy Connors, the Northampton Bank burglar. Connors hired a house in Auburn, in which they remained concealed for a long time, until the authorities had given up the search for them. Noble then went to Europe. This was in 1868. He established himself in London, and his house became the headquarters of all American thieves who have since had occasion to go abroad. He was concerned in the attempt to pass counterfeit $50 national bank notes, in Bavaria, which was discovered through the arrival of immigrants here having them in their possession. He was arrested in Munich on suspicion, but managed to get clear. His associates in this crime were Joe Chapman, Jim Miller, two other American thieves, and Jack Phillips, alias "Junky," an English thief, who spent some time in this country. Chapman and Phillips got fifteen years each. Noble has also been arrested and convicted in France for sneak-thieving. He served out his sentence.

Noble's latest crime was, as has been stated, forgery. Jim Miller, who was formerly a counterfeiter in this country, and is now wanted here by the Secret Service officers, and Charles Lister, and two men named Wardley and Garrett, English thieves, were his accomplices. In January last, Lister went down to St. Albans from London. By arrangement, £200 in sovereigns were deposited in the bank of Barnett, Hoare & Co., to be remitted to Blandy, Stevens & Co., at Reading, to the credit of "Edward Hunt," which was the name Lister assumed in his new calling of cattle-dealer. In that way an account was opened at Blandy's, into which the proceeds of certain notes cashed with a money-changer named Venables were paid. On January 12 Lister sent up from Reading some dead meat to Messrs. Dean & Hutton, of Smithfield, with instructions to remit to "Edward Hunt." A check on the Bank of England for £4 9s. 8d. was forwarded, and was subsequently altered to £500. It was paid by Wardley, who purported to be Lister's clerk, into "Hunt's" account in the bank, and a check by the latter for £230 was drawn against it and cashed. A few days later an attempt was made to draw £189 against two other checks for £3 8d. and £4 16s. 10d., received from Lee & Covell and Wild & Co., respectively, and altered to £890 in one case, and £1.400 in the other, but by that time the forgery of Dean & Co's check had been discovered, and Wardley and Garrett were arrested. This was on January 31. Noble, Miller, and Lister escaped and made their way back to London. Lister, in his flight, threw the altered checks into a timber-yard near the railway station, where they were afterward recovered and used as evidence against the gang. Lister was caught hiding in his mother's house at Shepherd's Bush. He was convicted and sentenced to fifteen years' imprisonment. He then turned Queen's evidence, and Miller was captured. Noble had fled to Italy, but was traced by means of a letter which he foolishly wrote to his wife under the name of Daniel Dyson. Miller pleaded guilty, and, taking the witness stand, swore that Noble knew nothing of the forgeries. He accounted for the latter's presence near the bank at Reading by saying that he went there by witness's invitation to receive £100, in part payment for a loan of £120. The jury did not believe this story, and found Noble guilty.

All the professional forgery in England for some years past has been the work of Americans, and so greatly have the banks suffered by them that they formed a union for the special purpose of breaking up the gang. Any loss to a bank resulting from a forgery is borne by all the banks through the union fund, which is also freely expended to secure the evidence necessary to convict the culprits. The English Judges seem also to have made it a rule to mete out exemplary punishment to American forgers. Noble and Miller were given twenty years each, which is four times as much as would have been awarded to an Englishman convicted of a similar crime, and four times as much as they would have got in this country. When some of Noble's former "pals" heard of his sentence yesterday it nearly took their breath away. The best of it is there is little or no possibility of reduction of sentence or of escape. Many Americans who have been convicted in England have tried the latter, but no one has ever succeeded.

Those California Parvenues.

[From the San Francisco Bulletin.]

Hill, the animal painter, whose "Grant at San Jose" is the artistic hit of the California season, tells a good story which admirably illustrates the complacent stupidity peculiar to many of the wealthy ignoramuses of the Pacific coast. When his studio was at San Jose some months ago an alleged connoisseur of large means came to inspect Hill's work. The millionaire did not permit himself to be pleased with anything he saw, however, excepting a fearful attempt at a marine view, painted by a not very promising pupil of the artist. "Now that," said the visitor, looking through his hand very critically, "now that is something very fine. If it was only a storm scene I wouldn't mind giving five hundred for it on the spot. I have one superb storm on the Atlantic coast and I want a first-class Pacific companion-piece to balance it." While the critic was engaged in another room, Hill's partner, Lussier, quickly seized his brushes and pallet and dashed a huge black cloud in the corner of the picture in question. A few touches of white capped the waves with spray, a few more hasty strokes defined the topmast of a supposed foundered vessel sticking out of the waves, while a little ochre on his thumb-nail finished the tempestuous effect with some streaks of jagged lightning. Hastily hanging the canvass in another position, the retoucher awaited results. "Ah! this is the real sort of thing!" said the visitor, as his eye fell upon the reupholstered daub. "This is just what I want." And though he finally jewed the firm down to $400, he paid that amount and then actually lugged off the horror in his carriage for fear some rival patron of the fine arts should get ahead of him.

BIG BONANZA.

American Capital Seeking Investment in Russia.

[Philadelphia Special to Cin. Commercial.]

Wharton Barker, a banker of this city, who acted as agent of the Russian Government when the Imperial cruisers were built here two years ago, will sail to-morrow from New York with a party of experts, who represent a fund of $8,000,000, subscribed to develop the coal and iron fields of Southern Russia. Barker has received concessions from the Emperor of Russia direct in recognition of his former services, giving him the sole right of opening up the Donetz coal fields north of the Sea of Azof, the iron deposits of Knoor Rog north of the Crimea, the construction of a railway system from the Sea of Azof a distance of 200 miles in a northerly direction, the establishment of a great shipping port on that sea, the erection of works for the manufacture of Bessemer steel rails and the building of grain elevators.

Col. Thomas A. Scott, who is largely interested in the project, says it is probably the greatest enterprise ever entered into between any American and the Russian Government. The concessions are far greater than any before granted to Harrison, Winans or other Americans who have had business relations with Russia. The extent of the territory to be developed extends for several hundred miles and the period of the concession is longer than has ever been granted before. According to the representations by competent engineers who have examined it the territory is of great value.

The stockholders include representatives of the railroad, coal, iron, steel and banking interests of Philadelphia and New York, the latter composing the representatives of some of the largest foreign houses. They do not wish their names mentioned until the work gets fairly under way. The fund subscribed is guaranteed to be forthcoming when necessary, and probably no other project ever opened under such favorable auspices. Besides making steel, the valuable iron ore can be utilized in this country. The ore is especially adapted to the manufacture of Bessemer steel. A harbor will be built, a railroad laid, grain elevators, blast furnaces and rolling-mills erected, and the entire enterprise will be carried on on the most complete scale.

How the Army Worm Moves.

[From the New Jersey Patriot.]

The army worm now devastating parts of Long Island and New Jersey is so called because it appears in such large numbers, and because, like others of its species, it moves in columns and follows a leader. It is a caterpillar, the larva of a moth, and noted for its voracity, as it well may be, since it can eat, it is said, more than double its own weight in twenty-four hours. Although less gluttonous as a rule, it is more destructive than the locust, from its greater fecundity and wider distribution over the vegetable world. It feeds on leaves, flowers, roots, buds, seeds, even the wood of plants; indeed, it is nearly omniverous. The worm is asserted to march in regular and exact order; it lives in society and moves in procession either in single file or two, three, and four abreast, the line being so perfect in the columns that the head of one is never beyond the head of another in the row. It follows the leader, stopping when the leader stops, making journeys from plant to plant or from tree to tree in quest of food, and returning to its nest in the same order. The worms form ranks, march and halt with the precision of soldiers. When several nests are in the same neighborhood, the going forth and coming back of the creeping battalions at the same hour, commonly toward nightfall, is very curious and interesting. Caterpillars include more than 1,000 varieties, there being 700 in New England alone. They all have thirteen segments; the first consisting of jaw and mouth; the second, third and fourth of the thorax of the future insect, and the other segments of the abdomen. Their rapid growth and extraordinary consumption are shown by the common silk-worm, which, according to Vincenzo Dandolo's treatise on silk, increases during the thirty days necessary to its full growth from one to forty lines in length and from 1-100 to about 95 grains in weight. In that time, therefore, it increases its weight 9,500 times and eats 50,000 times its weight of food. In the Northern States there are about 1,000 kinds of butterflies and moths. As each female lays from 200 to 500 eggs, these species would produce, on an average, from each single female 300,000 caterpillars a year. If one-half of these were females, the second generation would be 45,000,000 and the third 6,750,000,000. With such fertility, it is easy to see that the destructive power of caterpillars, particularly of the army-worm, must be prodigious.

President Lincoln in Richmond.

[G. F. Shepley in the July Atlantic.]

After his interview with Judge Campbell, the President being about to return to the Wabash, I took him and Admiral Porter in my carriage. An immense concourse of colored people thronged the streets, accompanied and followed the carriage, calling upon the President with the wildest exclamations of gratitude and delight. He was the Moses, the Messiah, to the slaves of the South. Hundreds of colored women tossed their hands high in the air, and then bent down to the ground, weeping for joy. Some shouted songs of deliverance, and sang the old plantation refrains, which had prophesied the coming of a deliverer from bondage. "God Bless You, Father Abraham!" went up from a thousand throats. Those only who have seen the paroxysmal enthusiasm of a religious meeting of slaves can form any adequate conception of the way in which the tears and smiles and shouts of these emancipated people evinced the frenzy of their gratitude to their deliverer. He looked at it all attentively, with a face expressive only of a sort of pathetic wonder. Occasionally its sadness would alternate with one of his peculiar smiles, and he would remark on the great proportion of those whose color indicated a mixed lineage from the white master and the black slave; and that reminded him of some little story of his life in Kentucky, which he would smilingly tell; and then his face would relapse again into that sad expression which all will remember who saw him during the last few weeks of the rebellion. Perhaps it was a presentiment of his impending fate.

I accompanied him to the ship, bade him farewell, and left him, to see his face no more. Not long after, the bullet of the assassin arrested the beatings of one of the kindest hearts that ever throbbed in human bosom.

THE former Khedive of Egypt is weary of exile. He recently asked permission for his family to take up their residence in Alexandria, but that was refused, and then the Turkish Minister of Foreign Affairs wrote a dispatch requesting Tewfik Pasha to authorize the return of his father's family. But objection was taken that this was unwarrantable interference in the internal affairs of Egypt. Hereupon Ismail Pasha telegraphed to the Turkish Foreign Minister that he intended going to Constantinople with his family, and claiming the protection of the Caliph, but the Foreign Minister replied that if he went to Constantinople he would have staightway to return; and then Ismail telegraphed to the Sheik-ul-Islam and to the Muftis of Morocco, Tunis, Bagdad and Teheran, calling upon them to pass judgment upon the Caliph for his refusal.

MRS. CHECKLEY'S CHILD.

The Romance of the Late Disaster on Long Island Sound.

[From the New York Sun, June 15.]

Among the victims of the disaster was Mrs. R. S. Checkley, of Boston, the circumstances of whose death were tragic to the last degree. Mrs. Checkley was returning home from this city, where she had been to recover from a runaway husband her little three-year-old daughter. Mrs. Checkley, having ascertained that her husband was in this city, came here about four weeks ago with a warrant for his arrest on a charge of abandonment. A week ago to-day a policeman, in Twenty-ninth street, near Madison avenue, was hailed by a woman who pointed to a man on the porch of a house and said, "I want you to arrest that man. He is my husband, and he has run away from me for another woman. I have a warrant for him." This woman was Mrs. Checkley. Her husband, who is said to be a sculptor, was carving the door stoop of the new brown stone front.

The policeman took Mr. Checkley to the Thirty-fifth Street Station, followed by Mrs. Checkley. Superintendent Walling was telegraphed to, and he replied, ordering the prisoner to be sent to the Police Central Office. Before leaving, however, Mrs. Checkley demanded of the prisoner the whereabouts of their child. Mr. Checkley said she could be found at 137 East Twenty-seventh street. Mrs. Checkley went to the house designated, and returned with her daughter.

Superintendent Walling, who had been fully informed of the case, sent Mr. Checkley before Justice Duffy in the Tombs. The prisoner told the Justice that he was ready to go back to Boston and live with his wife again. This he had also told Superintendent Walling, and everybody else to whom he had spoken about his case. Under the circumstances Justice Duffy thought it quite safe to let the man go on parole, as the only charge against him was that of simple abandonment. At the appointed time on the following day Checkley appeared in court, but Mrs. Checkley was not there to press the charge. She had secured the child, and that, it seems, was all she wanted. She told Capt. Murphy in the Thirty-fifth Street Police Station that she would never live with Checkley again, and that all she came to New York for was to recover her child.

Mrs. Checkley said she was forty-four years old, and gave her husband's age as twenty-seven. They had been married four years. She was a very delicate woman, of an excitable nature, and apparently very well educated. She was very lady-like in all her ways. Mr. Checkley, she said, had run away from her, taking their only child, and had, she believed, married a woman in this city.

Mr. Checkley gave the police the outlines of what must be a strange story. He said that prior to his marriage he had been a medical student, and was almost prepared to graduate. Mrs. Checkley, or Miss Adelaide E. Swett, as she was then called, was a lady of some means, but a confirmed invalid, having been given up by several physicians. The medical student got an idea that he could help her, or at any rate prolong her life for several years. To begin with, he married her. They lived together about four years, when, to his great surprise, Mr. Checkley was informed that his wife had previously been married, and that her first husband was still living. This, Mr. Checkley says, is the way he left his wife. The reason why he took the child with him was that its mother persisted in feeding it on medicated food when the child stood in no need of it. Besides, he was very much attached to it, and could not bear to part with it.

On Friday evening Mrs. Checkley, with her little girl, took passage in the Narragansett to go home to Boston. A few minutes before the steamboat went down a lifeboat manned by men who in the excitement had forgotten to take any oars aboard, floated under the stern of the sinking vessel. There, by the light of the fire, a woman was discovered on her back upon the surface of the water, with a little child riding upon her breast. It was Mrs. Checkley, and the child was her daughter Lilly. Both were pulled into the lifeboat. Mrs. Checkley was exhausted and almost unconscious. When she found herself aboard the boat she thought she had been rescued without her child, and after moaning some tender words about her "lost baby" she died. The child, however, was saved, and on Sunday night Mr. Checkley, who was still in this city, received a telegram from Boston informing him of that fact. He took the next train for Boston, and by this time he is on his way back in the undisputed possession of his child.

A PLUCKY WOMAN.

She Dons Male Attire and Starts East—Couldn't Live With Her Husband.

[Toledo Special to Chicago Tribune.]

A strange, and yet not altogether uncommon, phase of life was revealed to-day at the Union Depot. Officer Sullivan had occasion to be at the depot when the morning Lake Shore trains arrived, and was informed by Detective Cavanaugh that a woman disguised as a man was in one of the coaches. Proceeding to the car indicated, Sullivan found the figure clothed in a black suit, straw hat, and new box-toed shoes, reclining on a seat. It wore a mass of curly black hair at the back of the head, and small black mustache. The officer at once recognized in the figure before him a woman, and a very fair-looking one at that. She recognized the officer as quick as he did her, and when he laid his hand on her shoulder, she said she knew what was wanted, and would go with him. She was taken to Central Station, where, in answer to inquiries, she told the following story: "My name is Kate Bouch. I live in Grand Island, Neb., with my husband, Frederick Bouch. We have been married nine years, but he is so close-fisted, stingy, and cruel that I have left him twice in my own clothes, and he has caught me each time. Finally, about four months ago, I went to work for some neighbors who advised me to buy a man's suit and leave disguised in that way. So I got enough money to buy these clothes, and last Wednesday left. I changed my clothes at the house of a friend three miles from home, and did not sleep until I got to Chicago. There I was about to board a train for Toledo, when I thought I saw my husband in the depot, and so I walked to Englewood, where I was all right. The way they detected me was: Between Chicago and here I went to sleep and my mustache fell off, and when I awoke I found several men were looking at me. Then your policeman brought me over here. My mother lives in Whitby, Canada, but I was going to Buffalo to see a sister, for I knew my brothers would whip my husband if he comes for me. I met Fred in Ontario first. He had claimed a homestead of 160 acres about eight miles from the railroad in Grand Island, Neb. We lived happily the first two or three years. I had two children, but they are both dead. I do so hope they will let me go East, for I can never live with him again." The story was told with frequent bursts of tears, and her face was covered with her hands during its recital. She was detained in the Sergeant's room without charge being preferred, awaiting the Captain's pleasure. Capt. Scott says there is nothing to hold the woman for. She was passing through the city, had made no disturbance, and should not have been arrested. She will leave for Buffalo to-morrow.

New Hampshire Prison Barbarity.

[Concord Special to Chicago Times.]

The revelations of cruelty within the walls of the New Hampshire State Prison, which are daily made before the investigating committee, are exciting a great deal of feeling in this city and throughout the State. A case of particular severity was brought to light to-day, the victim being Wm. A. Pattee, who was committed in 1873 for manslaughter, and died in 1877, it is alleged, as a result of inhuman treatment by the warden and officers. Pattee's two sisters testify that when they visited the prison Warden Pillsbury was very cross, and sometimes insulting. The evidence of one of the sisters was to the following effect: The warden complained of his praying all night, disturbing the prisoners. One time, when told by the warden that he was in solitary for praying and muttering, I told the warden I though he was insane. He said: "What would you think to find him dead some time?" I said it would be looked into, as he was a strong, healthy man. The warden sent a boy to me to notify me he was out of solitary. I think it was two or three weeks after he was put in I saw him, and he said he was hungry, and he was drawn down. He never appeared natural afterward. I tried to have the warden let me get him some wristers and gloves, etc., but he would not permit it. The last time I saw brother before his last sickness he was failing. He said he could not eat. The warden would not let me carry oranges, etc., to him. I went to see brother about two months afterward, but was not allowed to see him. Went again next day, and saw him. He was dying then, and died two days afterward. The steward said he had consumption, the physician said congestion, the deputy said paralysis, and in the prison report it was put down as general debility. Another prisoner, a girl named Clara S. Gould, who was imprisoned for arson, testified that she and several other female prisoners were compelled to strip to the waist and receive twenty or twenty-five blows with a cat-o'-nine tails. The offense was wrestling in the work room. The lashes were inflicted by the matron in the presence of the warden. The scars are still to be seen. On another occasion, for a similar offense, each of the girls was imprisoned in a cell three days and two nights on bread and water.

ELEPHANTS TAKING A BATH.

Six of Them Wallowing in the Pond on Boston Common.

[From the Boston Transcript.]

The wallowing of half a dozen elephants in the Frog Pond this morning was the wondrous sight that will long be remembered by the thousands of Bostonians of all ages and conditions who thronged the knolls in the vicinity. The picturesque strangers from India and Africa were not less delighted. They seemed to quaff the Cochituate and sport in its waver with as much gusto as if they were reveling in some remote tributary of the Ganges or the Nile in their native jungles. Seen at a little distance the huge gray backs of the tropical beasts loomed up like Cape Ann rocks at the head of the pond. At first they stood almost motionless, but as the reality of the treat and their liberty came to be fully believed in they grew quite demonstrative, and willing not only to wet their "overalls," but to lie down and roll—all except the venerable leader, who seemed to have something akin to a religious respect, like a fakir of India, for the ancient dirt on his shoulders, and carried it back to his tent unprofaned by the ablution. The younger elephants trumpeted, curved up their trunks, stuck out their tails straight as pokers, as in the pictures of elephant combats, and finally stooped down and buried their immense heads under the water, there remaining so long that people who did not see the tips of their trunks above the surface thought they were drowning. Two of them got to twining their trunks one round the other, so as to bring their flabby lips into a clumsy osculation. For the moment the show business was forgot, and the proboscidians returned to their native sports—and yet not wholly forgot, for one degenerate youngster of the herd went round the plashy margin of the pond holding up the end of his trunk like a contribution box for the apples and peanuts of the small boy who was on hand in his usual force on such occasions. After some enterprising photographer had secured several pictures of the bathing monsters they demurely followed their trainer and a calico horse from the circus back to their tents, adding, no doubt, the grateful testimony of denizens of two more grand divisions of the globe that Boston Common is the most beautiful spot in the world. Direct descendants of some of the first families of the Garden of Eden, they ought to know.

Changes in Jerusalem.

[From the New York Times.]

A wonderful change has taken place in Jerusalem of late years, and it is probably now a more comfortable residence than ever before in its history. Mr. Schick, who holds the appointment of Surveyor of Buildings in the holy city, has lately issued a very instructive report. He tells us that ruined houses have been restored or rebuilt by individuals or companies, and buildings on the Peabody plan have been erected by associations. The streets are now lighted, kept, for an Eastern city, most exceptionally clean, and the aqueduct from the Pools of Solomon has been restored, and water brought thence to the city. Tanneries and slaughter-houses have been removed outside the town. The Sanitary Department is under the control of a German physician. Bethlehem and Nazareth are eagerly emulating the progress of the capital. In the latter place windows are becoming quite frequent. It is asserted that there is a fixed resolution on the part of thousands in Prussia to make that country as hot as possible for Jews, and it is not unlikely that this may in a measure increase the already considerable number now returning to Palestine, more especially as the German Jews already are a power in Jerusalem. The improvements are, further, likely to lead to many Europeans wintering there.

Suicide in Prison.

[Toronto (Ont.) Special.]

This morning Robert De Coursier, the Lampton Mills murderer, swallowed a deadly drug, from the effects of which he died in less than three minutes. At 7 o'clock Watson, the day watchman, came on duty. When Watson came on duty De Coursier was in bed. About 8 o'clock he jumped hastily out of bed and drank some water out of a pitcher in the room. He immediately returned to bed, and a peculiar noise which gurgled from his throat alarmed the watchman, and examining his charge more closely found that he was in the last stages of dissolution. The two were locked into the room, and Watson rapped loudly on the door for assistance. Turnkey Bell opened the door, but by the time he got to the bedside De Coursier was dead. An examination made before the cell was locked disclosed that at the bedside there was a little sprinkling of a grayish powder and in the water bucket a small vial was thrown. Where the suicide obtained the poison to carry out his purpose remains a matter of conjecture at present, he having been for months watched closely night and day. There had been trouble between Robert De Coursier and his brother Edward, which resulted in the former shooting the latter. He was to have been hanged June 16.

A Bride's Flight From the Altar.

[From the New York Times.]

Miss Kitty Minugh, a prepossessing blonde who resides on St. Paul's avenue, Jersey City Heights, and is employed in Lorillard's tobacco factory, was to have been married to a respectable young man who resides on Pacific avenue. The appointed time and place for the ceremony were 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon and St. Joseph's Church, on Baldwin avenue. At that hour the bride and groom and a few intimate friends repaired to the church. As the officiating clergyman was about to pronounce the solemn words which would make them man and wife, the bride suddenly turned and fled out of the church at the top of her speed. The groom and spectators were filled with consternation, but nothing was left for them to do but to return home and seek an explanation. What transpired at the bride's house is not publicly known, but in the evening the bridal party returned to the church, the thread of the ceremony was taken up where the bride's sudden caprice had dropped it in the afternoon and carried through to the end without further interruption.

Mrs. Bennett's Success.

[From the Chicago Tribune.]

Dr. Alice Bennett has been made physician in charge of the woman's department of the Insane Hospital at Norristown, Pa. Dr. Bennett is not an expert in insanity, but she holds an honorable place in the profession. She is the first woman appointed to an office of this kind in Pennsylvania, or, so far as known, in the United States. The experiment is worth making. Common sense and ordinary humanity agree in saying that, other things being equal, women can best care for unfortunate persons of their own sex. And if Dr. Alice Bennett shall show as much judgment, skill and diligence in the discharge of her duties as her predecessor has done, she will open a new field of employment for women.

CONSIDER THE LILIES.

Consider the lilies! O, faithless hearts,
How stately and fair they grow;
Behold the quivering, golden darts,
Lying deep in their breasts of snow.

Consider each pearly petal unfurled,
How pure and white it is;
The wisest and grandest of all the world
Was never arrayed like this.

To hearts bowed down, ye lilies go,
And bear His accents mild—
"Think ye, that One who clothes us so
Can ever forsake His child?

"But your hearts, like ours, must be golden, true,
And your lives, like our petals, pure;
And the Father's blessing shall rest on you,
He has said—and His promise is sure."

ROSE GERANIUM.

A POMPEIAN HOUSE.

The "Casa Del Centenario" the Largest Hitherto Discovered.

[Naples Cor. London Daily News.]

"The house which was begun to be excavated at the celebration of the centenary of Pompeii, and is, therefore, called 'Casa del Centenario,' and from which I saw three skeletons dug out, has proved to be the largest hitherto discovered, and is of peculiar interest. It contains two atria, two trichnia, four alae or wings, a calidarium, frigidarium and tepidarium. It occupies the entire space between three streets, and most likely a fourth, which has yet to be excavated. The vestibule is elegantly decorated, and its mosaic pavement ornamented with the figure of a dolphin pursued by a seahorse. In the first atrium, the walls of which are adorned with small theatrical scenes, the pavement is sunk and broken as if by an earthquake, and there is a large hole through which one sees the cellar. The second atrium is very spacious, with a handsome peristyle, the columns—white and stucco—being twenty-six in number. In the center is a large marble basin, within the edge of which runs a narrow step. On the pedestal at one side was found the statuette of the Faun which I lately described. The most interesting place in the house is an inner court or room, on one side of which is the niche, with tiny marble steps, often to be seen in Pompeian houses. The frescoes on the walls are very beautiful. Close to the floor runs a wreath of leaves about a quarter of a yard wide, with alternately a lizard and a stork. Above it, about a yard distant, droop, as if from over a wall, large branches of ivy and broad leaves like those of the tiger-tail—all very freely, naturally and gracefully drawn. At each corner of the room a bird clings to one of these branches. Then comes a space—bordered at the top by another row of leaves—in which is represented a whole aquarium, as if the room was lined with tanks. There are different sorts of shells and aquatic plants lying at the bottom of the water, and swimming in or on it all kinds of fish, jelly fish, sepias, ducks, and swans, admirably sketched with a light yet firm touch. The ripples made by the swimming ducks are indicated, and one duck is just flying into the water with a splash. On each side of the niche this amusing aquarium is enlivened by a special incident. To the left a large octopus has caught a monstrous muræna (lamprey)—which turns round to bite—in its tentacles; to the right a fine lobster has pierced another muræna through and through with its long, hard feelers, or horns. These creatures are painted in the natural colors very truthfully. On the left wall of the room, above the two fishes, are two sphinxes, supporting on their heads square marble vases, on the brim of each of which sits a dove. Behind the niche, and on the left side of the room, runs a little gallery with a corridor underneath, lighted by small square holes in the border of hanging branches. The wall of this gallery behind the niche is decorated with a woodland landscape, in which, on one side, is represented a bull running frantically away with a lion clinging to its haunches; on the other, a horse lying struggling on its back, attacked by a leopard; all nearly the size of life. On each side of the doorway is painted, respectively, a graceful doe and a bear. The other rooms are also very beautiful; one with a splendidly elegant design on a black ground; in another a small fresco representing a man pouring wine out of an amphora into a large vessel. The bath rooms are large and elegant, the cold bath spacious and of marble. In one room a corner is dedicated to the lares and penates, and in the fresco decoration, among the usual serpents, etc., I noticed the singular figure of a Bacchus or bacchante, entirely clothed with large grapes. In one of the mosaic pavements is a head of Medusa, the colors very bright and well preserved. As some of the rooms are only excavated to within two or three feet of the floor, it is possible that many valuable ornaments or statuettes may yet be found, as everything indicates that this splendid house belonged to some rich citizen."

Chevalier Wikoff's Book.

[N. Y. Cor. Louisville Courier-Journal.]

Mr. Henry Wikoff, known more widely to fame as Chevalier Wikoff, has written another book. I suppose he can't help it. His last effort is simply gossip about great men, celebrated women, and Henry Wikoff. I knew this gentleman in his palmy days, as far as a boy could know a man verging toward middle age. He and a Mr. Oates were very prominent in the staid city of Boston for harmless peculiarities. Mr. Oates became one solitary man out of a multitude by simply wearing a striped red and white necktie among the orthodox who never veered from black or plain white. This crimson-lined banner seemed to have marked the man for Satan's own. When Fanny Ellsler made her appearance at the old Tremont Theater, and revolutionized to a certain extent the laws of propriety as understood in that city of the starched, Wikoff, who had long before become the captive to the gay foreigner, was her devoted servant. Their names became at once coupled. He sought for notoriety, and found it in this case without an effort. Some of the remarks that were made and jests that circulated in the street touching this case would not have been suited to a gilt frame or considered worthy to hang up in a church porch. I shall never forget the first appearance of the gay Fanny. She pushed a small cart over a set bridge, and, bending over, exhibited a large amount but inferior quality of charms. She convinced me of what I then accepted as a fact, since proved to be a fiction, that the old masters were superior to nature, the specimen of the latter on exhibition being rather battered.

The Chevalier subsequently went to Europe for the second time, and, true to his instincts, called upon the Countess Guiccioli, who regaled him with some of Byron's old love letters, one of which the Chevalier now gives to a gaping American public. What the Chevalier went after was good society, and he found it with the mistress of Byron and the more notorious Countess of Blessington. English New York will read the old man's book with reverential awe. He is the small change of the Countess de Remusat, has much of the toadyism of Nat Willis, with very little of the latter's talent. I don't know where this party was born. It was a supposition that he was twenty-five when he came into the world. He appeared with the suddenness of a meteor, and disappeared as mysteriously. He must be over eighty years of age. He and George the Count Johannes flourished at the same time.

Bermuda as a Summer Resort.

[From the Bermuda Royal Gazette.]

The popular impression is that Bermuda is only a fit place of resort during the winter months, from November to the end of April, and consequently the steamer from New York is scantily patronized during May and June, when an extra boat is provided to maintain a weekly communication at both ends of the line. Only two passengers were reported by the Bermuda yesterday. We feel sure, with a proper knowledge of facts, that that ship would have had a full complement of passengers. A sea voyage to Bermuda at a fair, calm period of the year, the beneficial influences of a pleasant sea voyage, and the change from the steamed air of American cities to our balmy insular atmosphere, would renew many a wearied frame, and prove more beneficial than a land trip to the average American and Canadian, who may have exhausted resorts near their respective homes. We are convinced that the hotel could do a large business during May, June, and July, and that it need only be closed, and then perhaps not altogether, during August, September, and October, for renovation for the winter campaign. A palatial and fast steamer, to accelerate the voyage between Bermuda and New York, will develop a passenger trade at present hardly dreamed of.

HOWGATE'S EXPEDITION.

The Gulnare Preparing for the North Pole Voyage.

[From the Washington Post, 15th.]

The Gulnare will make the voyage. All doubts and speculations upon this point are set at rest by the fact that she is loading now at the foot of Seventh street for her destination. It appears that all the talk about the unsatisfactory condition of the vessel grew out of a disagreement between the army and the navy. The boilers have been examined by competent engineers and stood a stronger test than was expected, over twenty pounds of additional pressure being put on without in the least affecting the strength. The engineers went into the boilers and thoroughly tested every part and were convinced that they were able to endure all the pressure which might be required. The hull of the boat is of iron, but in order to make it still stronger, heavy oaken timbers have been fastened to the outside until it looks able to withstand the shock of an iceberg. The boat is brigantine rigged, trim and well-built, and as rakish-looking a craft as one may see in a week's journey. The boilers are being covered with asbestos two inches thick to retain the heat, after which a non-conductor is to be added, making what is known as salamander felting. Mr. McKenny, of Baltimore, one of the most experienced stevedores in the country, has charge of the loading and stowing of the hold, and he is doing his work with the nicest precision and with due regard to proper balance by the aid of a plummet. The scene at Stephenson's wharf yesterday was a busy one. Barrels, boxes, kegs, coils of rope, hardware, lumber and everything that goes to make up the cargo of a vessel for a long voyage, were piled around on the wharf. One hundred thousand tons of coal were taken aboard, the whole being stowed away in five hours, under the supervision of Stephenson Brothers. The stores, which are furnished by B. W. Reed's Sons, under the direction of B. W. Reed, consist of beans, dried apples and peaches, granulated sugar, P. R. molasses, tomatoes, tea, vinegar, roasted coffee, preserved meat, flour, rice, pilot bread, pork, dried beef, preserved eggs, concentrated milk, pumpkins, sweet potatoes, pickles and all sorts of spices and condiments, tobacco, alcohol, rope, oils, glassware, lamps, two heating stoves, two cook stoves, caldron, ten foot saw for cutting ice, crowbars, spades and all manner of hardware. The lumber is on the ground for the two houses, together with the felting with which the inside is to be lined. The houses will be of double thickness, and when lined with felt well, it is thought, be able to withstand the cold. Among the stores are twenty-five rolls of pemmican—buffalo meat with fat—baled up in hide. The pilot-house has a double thickness of weather boarding to make it perfectly secure against the biting winds of the polar region. An ingenious contrivance, called the "crow's nest," a sort of wooden tank for the lookout, is one of the curiosities of the outfit. A quantity of dynamite will also be taken aboard for blasting ice. The supply of coal will last forty days, but it is not intended to use coal until they get among the ice, the voyage from here being made by sail. The vessel goes direct to Lady Franklin's bay, where they will disembark and put up the houses. After remaining with them ten or twelve days the vessel will return home. All the work of loading will be through by to-night, and be ready to sail some time this week. Everything possible is being done for the comfort of the crew. The officers' quarters are handsomely fitted up, and the accommodations for the men are all that could be desired. Capt. Howgate, who is bearing the whole expense of the outfitting, was overlooking the work yesterday evening, and was delighted at the prospect of a successful voyage. Mrs. Conger has presented the expedition with a beautiful red silk banner with the word "Gulnare" in gold on one side and a polar bear on the other. The officers and men are in high spirits and anxious to be off.

YOUNG'S TWADDLE.

A Critique on the Grant Trip Around the World.

[From the London Saturday Review.]

The tour was a parade in thorough American taste, of one whom, since Americans so chose to present him, other countries were in a sense bound to receive as the representative of American nationality. The book reminds us not a little of the volume in which the Shah of Persia has recorded his impressions of European scenes and persons; except, of course, that it utterly lacks the naivete of the Eastern monarch's views of European civilization. It has all the vices of courtiership, with none of the dignity which loyalty and reverence for an ancient title may sometimes give to the subserviency of a court; all the bunkum and bad taste of American hero-worship, all the pert assumption of superiority, all the endeavor to be funny, attended by signal ill-success, that characterize a certain class of American books of travel. In a word, it is about the very worst book of its size in the world, and will do all that biography can do to render an eminent man ridiculous. How Gen. Grant can have tolerated its publication we are at a loss to conceive. Moreover, there is a great deal more in it of Mr. Russell Young than of Gen. Grant. The courier figures quite as prominently, supplies as much of the real material of the work, as its nominal hero. It is a relief, in the midst of Mr. Young's flippant and meaningless verbiage, to come across the addresses presented by various public bodies, English and other, to the General, which in any other work would be skipped as tedious to the last degree.

It is notorious that Gen. Grant has never shown that skill in selecting his personal entourage which he must have possessed in choosing lieutenants and assistants in the field, and that he has suffered heavily in character, reputation and influence through the sins and blunders of those with whom he has surrounded himself; but perhaps he never made a worse mistake of this kind than when he chose as the journalist of his voyage the author of these two massive volumes, with their 800 illustrations.

Flowers in New York.

[From the Troy Times.]

Indicating the wonderful increase in the sale of flowers in New York City alone, it is stated that in 1844 the sale of flowers for New Year's day in what was then the largest store in the city amounted only to $200, and probably for the whole city it did not exceed $1,000. Now the amount spent for floral decorations on that day probably reaches $50,000, while for the whole year the money spent for flowers probably amounts to millions of dollars. It is estimated that there are 500 florists' establishment within a radius of ten miles of New York City, and the capital invested in land, structures and stock is not less than $8,000,000, the product of which is mainly for the metropolis.

LORD PENZANCE was compelled two weeks ago to suspend an English clergyman who had attempted to conduct divine service while in a state of intoxication. The accused admitted that on the occasion in question he had been "unable to distinguish one Psalm from another," and that "the same occurred with the Lessons." The allegation that he had fallen asleep during the Communion service he considered "very unlikely."

How dear to my heart is the school I attended,
And how I remember, so distant and dim,
That red-headed Bill and the pin that I bended
And carefully put on the bench under him!
And how I recall the surprise of the master,
When Bill gave a yell and sprang up with the pin
So high that his bullet-head busted the plaster
Above, and the scholars all set up a grin.
That active boy Billy, that high-leaping Billy!
That loud-shouting Billy that sat on a pin!

RIVER NEWS.

CAPT. MCDONALD, commanding the Annie, takes her to St. Paul.

BOONE ALLEN will be engineer of the Dora. The selection of Boone is a good one.

THE Natchez will adopt the electric light. Nearly all river steamers will do this.

PARISOT, of Vicksburg, bought the De Smet at New Orleans, Marshal's sale, for $4,500.

LOOK out for the big water. Move your property away from the margin or it will be swept away.

THE Centennial, a great sidewheel passenger packet, can be engaged for picnics. No better boat for the business can be found.

THE Belle Memphis has come in finishing her last business trip and goes to Louisville to be torn up and get her engines into a new Anchor Liner.

THE Jay Gould Line is about to land a big lot of barges for New Orleans. When Jay's fleet of 100 barges is completed it will be a show worth seeing.

CAPT. BILL WELLINGTON, formerly of Dubuque, is here visiting old friends. Capt. Wellington is still purchasing farms, and now has seventeen in Iowa.

CAPT. JNO. NOSS left the Dean Adams at Memphis and is here with Mr. McCluskey, who was on the same steamer. Both will probably return to Pittsburg shortly.

THE Yaeger wreck is right in the channel. This and the Chapman and Golden Eagle are obstructions. We hope they will be removed immediately on the subsidence of the water.

CAPT. ALEX. LAMONT, having returned from Dubuque, will be kept very busy organizing the new Schwartz Line of Illinois and Upper Mississippi steamers. The new Dora's engine performs satisfactorily, and she will be completed next week.

CAPT. EARL, of the Montana, will go to Pittsburg and visit Cincinnati on the way. He is to meet there the Hon. Capt. D. W. Maratta, delegate to the convention from Dacotah, who will show him how useful a delegate can be to his friends. Capt. Maratta left Bismarck for Cincinnati yesterday. He is a Hancock man.

MEMPHIS Appeal: Capt. Milt Harry and his crew left last evening for Augusta to bring the steamer Josie Harry to this port to enter the Memphis and Arkansas City trade, to take the place of the Ouachita Belle, leaving here every Monday and Thursday afternoon at 5 o'clock. She will be here in time to leave Monday on her first trip.

PITTSBURG Dispatch, 15: Gray's Iron Line will send out a tow on this water. Captain M. A. Cox was in the city yesterday; he looks exceedingly well. The famous Buckeye State is running between Cincinnati and Huntington. The present rise will make business active on the landing. The small towboats were busily employed towing boats and barges to the lower landing.

THE Carrier left for Kansas City last evening with a light trip. She takes on board 6,000 railroad ties at points on the Lower Missouri. John Wynn is mate of the Carrier. On that boat's last trip, his father, Ulysses Wynn, of Sterling, Ill., went on her from Kansas City to Omaha and back to St. Louis. He was well pleased with the trip. It is said to be his first steamboat ride.

MEMPHIS Avalanche: The towboat Charles McDonald and the tug De Soto were at work yesterday pumping out the sunken barge Mary Ann. She was nearly afloat at dark yesterday. Seven hundred and seven sks of oil cake, out of 3,300, have been recovered in an undamaged condition. The balance of the cake, 2,593 sks, is in a damaged condition and will prove a total loss. There are 1,000 brls of oil stored in the hull which will probably be found all "O. K.".

THE Pittsburg papers praise the Dean Adams. She is well built, and has a fine cabin finely furnished; but she draws 4½ feet at stern and 3 feet forward. This, for so small a steamer, is ruinous. We understand that the Pittsburg builder remonstrated; but Major Adams, unwilling to believe that he could make a mistake, would listen to no advice, but had her built to go deep and force the water. The Dean Adams has the engines of the Legal Tender. One of her cylinders cracked on the way down. She is said to be heavy on fuel. If the model and style of the hull had been left in the discretion of the builder, a much more valuable boat would have been constructed for the money.

DAVENPORT, June 16.—The Diamond Jo steamer Josie arrived from St. Louis last evening, and leaves at 6 o'clock this morning for above.

The Libbie Conger departed for St. Louis last evening with a full cargo.

The Clinton arrived from below and the Tidal Wave from above last evening, several hours behind time.

The K. N. L. packet Belle of La Crosse is due from St. Paul this evening.

The water is rising rapidly on account of the recent rains.

THE "WENTWORTH,"

NEWCASTLE, N. H.

This Hotel will open June 25. It has accommodations for 400 guests, and offers more attractions for pleasure and comfort than any other seaside resort in the country. Its high situation affords beautiful views, both inland and seaward; its healthful atmosphere, the easy manner in which it can be reached, its advantages for boating, bathing and fishing, excellent drives and attractive walks, all combine to make it one of the most charming places on the coast of New England.

Since last year extensive additions have been made, among them one hundred and fifty sleeping rooms, a spacious Music Hall for dancing, theatricals and concerts, Bowling Alleys, Billiard Room, a passenger elevator operated by steam, a large and commodious stable for private equipages, the grounds lighted by the electric light, steam yacht for excursions, etc., etc.

The temperature of the bathing at the "Wentworth" is especially inviting to those unable to endure the shock incident to more exposed localities. An enclosed body of salt water, covering an area of fifty acres, affords a safe and pleasant place for boating at all times for ladies and children. The drives to the neighboring beaches and other points of attraction in this vicinity are unsurpassed. The veranda, fifteen feet in width, surrounding the House, gives an extended promenade of over 1,000 feet in length, while the view is unexcelled in beauty and grandeur.

An orchestra of twenty selected musicians, under the direction of Mr. John J. Braham, has been engaged for the season.

The House is furnished throughout in black walnut, has the best of beds. Its sleeping rooms are of ample size, well ventilated, and from all sides of the House afford fine views. Its cuisine will be found of an unexceptionable character. The "Wentworth" is situated three miles from Portsmouth, N. H., in the ancient town of Newcastle, and is reached from Boston in two hours' ride over the Eastern Railroad. Address

UHRIG'S CAVE—Doctor of Alcantara.

SEYMOUR is the man. He will accept if nominated.

EVERYTHING points to Seymour and Hendricks as the Cincinnati ticket.

MR. SEYMOUR is in splendid health, and his fellow-townsmen, who understand the situation, are going to Cincinnati to work for his nomination.

IT is rumored that the Democrats of the Eighth Missouri District are holding a convention at Kansas City to nominate a candidate for Congress.

THERE is no longer a doubt about Seymour's acceptance. Then there is nothing for the Cincinnati Convention to do but nominate him off-hand.

INDIANA Republicans are holding a State Convention to-day. They should regalvanize Colfax with a resolution of confidence by way of strengthening Garfield and smirching the memory of Oakes Ames.

MR. SEYMOUR has not said this year that he would not accept a Presidential nomination. There is no easier word in the English language than "NO," and he has not, so far as we have observed, employed that simple term in discussing the matter with his friends.

IT is reported that some of our local statesmen who are devoted to the interests of Mr. Tilden are permitting their minds to dwell on Gen. George B. McClellan, of New Jersey, as a second choice. If a painful war reminiscence is desired, McClellan will fill the bill.

THE dispatch from Syracuse to the Chicago Times which we print in another column is conclusive as to Mr. Seymour's willingness to make the race for the Presidency if his party so desires. He is not a candidate and would prefer to be left in retiracy, but he will make the sacrifice if called on.

A HEALTHY demand for laborers comes from Texas. Five hundred men are needed at Ft. Worth to work on railways in process of construction at $2 a day. This ought to start an exodus of tramps and other people who spend their lives in hunting for work and praying that they won't find it—in the direction of Manitoba.

As Mr. Filley has about recovered from the exhaustion incident to his heroic services in the pass of Thermopylæ at Chicago, he should call a little ratification meeting of his own and express his satisfaction with the nomination of Garfield. The Republican party of St. Louis cannot be said to be keeping step to the music of the spheres until Mr. Filley imparts the tempo with his magic baton.

THE Fifth Army Corps, in annual session at Burlington, Vt., has adopted resolutions appealing to Congress to do justice to Fitz John Porter. It was hoped that Congress would, at its late session, abate this national nuisance by deciding it one way or the other; but we are sorry to say that the matter stands where it did a year ago. We fear the Porter case bids fair to be a chronic infliction on this country.

IF the Insurance Building is purchased and converted into a City Hall, the artistic statues which now adorn the cornice can be put to a noble use. By cutting off a beard here, adding a mustache there, and properly labeling them, the statues of Cicero, Ben. Franklin, Socrates and John C. Heenan can be made to do duty as counterfeit presentments of such of our municipal statesmen as manage to distinguish themselves.

THIS is the last of the school days, and the period has commenced when the small boy goes out to the suburban pond and gets drowned, when the intellectual miss spends the livelong day chewing gum and reading the New York Ledger, and when the plodding pedagogue grows frantic for a free pass to some rustic resort. Our public schools, teachers and pupils are the pride of the metropolis, and the POST-DISPATCH wishes all a happy vacation.

SECOR ROBESON, the gentleman who achieved some distinction a few years ago as the manager of our important Navy, spoke from the Riggs House porch last night to the crowd of Department clerks who serenaded Garfield. When he mentioned the name of his old friend and patron, Grant, the vast concourse rose and yelled. The vibrations shook the cobwebs from the Corinthian caps of the Treasury building across the street and rolled down the broad Potomac to the secluded spot where sleeps the Father of the Country. It was a majestic occasion.

MR. BRITTON A. HILL, the great Greenback apostle who was once prominently spoken of for King of Bulgaria, does not appear to have cut a conspicuous figure at Chicago, and his friends seriously fear that he is growing lukewarm in the cause. At one time it was thought that Mr. Hill would be the rag-baby nominee for President, and it is possible that a disappointment in this direction may have cooled his ardor. Mr. Hill would have been a stronger candidate than Weaver, and we hope he will not continue to feel chagrined, but go to work and groom himself for the race in 1884.

IT would be interesting to know where our municipal statesmen propose to obtain the money for the purchase of the classic Insurance Building at the corner of Sixth and Locust, which it is proposed to convert into into a Hotel de Ville. Under the existing charter the tax levy is limited and we can't raise money enough, after paying current expenses, to stop up the hog wallows in our streets. Perhaps the Assemblymen who are in need of a nice building in which to hold meetings propose to chip in and buy the insurance monument themselves and present it to the city.

GARFIELD'S friends are reproducing in his defense a pamphlet which he issued in 1873, by way of explaining the charges made against him of participation in the Credit Mobilier rascality. This defense sets up that no check, certificate or receipt bearing his name or initials is in existence, and asserts that his only financial transaction with Oakes Ames was a loan of $300, which has long since been paid. Oakes Ames is not here to show the flimsiness of this defense, but his testimony is still on file. Oakes was a man of methods, and he knew what he was up to when dealing with brother members of the House. It should be borne in mind, too, that loaning money to Congressmen is the most common of the dodges of the insidious lobbyist.

THE HUMBLE MAN.

IF we are to judge by the oratorical efforts of Gen. Garfield within the past fortnight, the country is to be treated to some magnificent wind-bursts during the campaign. Immediately following the Sherman panegyric in the Chicago Convention the obese candidate went to a college commencement at Hiram, Ohio, and delivered a verbose address which contained unmistakable evidence of the depressing effect of fatty matter on the brain. He told the boys that this meeting with them had brought back "a large share of that richness that belongs to those things out of which come the joys of life." He referred to the delicious leisure hours of the students as "the leisure you have to think, the leisure you have to be let alone, the leisure you have to throw the plummet into your minds and sound their depths and find what is below, the leisure you have to walk about the towers of yourselves and find how strong they are, and how weak they are," etc. This was the quintessence of Chadbandism and train oil, but the speech delivered in Washington last night in response to the office-holders' serenade was the climax of word-mangling and frothy sentences full of airy nothingness. Said the ambitious orator from the Riggs House platform, gazing down upon the tax-eaters:

> While I have looked upon this great array, I believe I have gotten a new idea of the majesty of the American people, when I reflect that whenever you find sovereign power every reverent heart on earth bows before it, and when I remember that here for 100 years we have denied the sovereignty of any man, and in place of it we have asserted the sovereignty of all in place of one. I see before me so vast a concourse that it is easy for me to imagine that the rest of the American people are gathered here to-night, and if they were all here every man would stand uncovered and unsandaled in the presence of the majesty of the only sovereign power in this Government under Almighty God. [Cheers.] And, therefore, to this great audience I pay respectful homage, that in part belongs to the sovereignty of the people. I thank you for this great and glorious demonstration. I am not for one moment misled into believing that it refers to so poor a thing as any one of our number. I know it means your reverence to your Government, reverence for its laws, your reverence for its institutions and your compliment to me who is placed for a moment in relations to you of peculiar importance. For all these reasons I thank you.

An admirer of Garfield's undertook to demonstrate the other day that he represented in his own proper person the sum and substance of all the other Republican candidates for President. He was said to be better and purer than Hayes because branier; craftier than Sherman, as soldierly as Grant, as shrewd as Blaine and as willing to take a slice of a good thing. These efforts at speech-making would indicate that in addition to all the qualities enumerated he combines with the Chadbandism of the Western Reserve a fair share of Pecksniffism and a great deal of Uriah-Heepism. He has started out to charm the country with his poetic imaginings and his lofty sentences and lest he should be misapprehended and suspected of being too large for his clothing, the fat person has concluded to play the role of the Humble Man. We are all sovereigns this year, and Mr. Garfield is only "a poor thing."

A NEW YORK banker named Lawson has sent a telegram to the West announcing that Samuel J. Tilden has just renounced his claim to the Presidential nomination this year in favor of H. B. Payne, of Ohio. This smart man has information, also, that Clarkson N. Potter is to have the second place on the ticket; that Tilden is to contribute $200,000 to the campaign, while Payne is to spend $500,000. These details are entirely too minute. There is no doubt about the existence of a close tie of friendship between Tilden and the Ohio millionaire, but there is not enough of the David and Jonathan element in it to justify the belief that Mr. Tilden will haul off the track and spend his money in this reckless manner besides. Payne is doubtless being worked up by people who affect to believe that an Ohio man is necessary at this time to neutralize Garfield. This is all bosh—Ohio is out of the Democratic calculation this year. The greasy Mr. Garfield, with his cant, verbosity, hypocrisy and jobbery, fills the Ohio Republican eye. The State is naturally Republican, and Garfield will carry it in the face of all or any opposition that may be brought against him. If Mr. Tilden had a second choice it would be outside of New York, of course; but he has neither power this year to nominate himself nor exalt Ohio statesmanship to the extent of placing another of its wealthy sons at the head of a Presidential ticket. There is a disposition on the part of the sovereign people of the United States to snub Ohio.

IT will grieve Gen. Grant sorely to know that his failing to put a stop at the right time to the attempt of his indiscreet friends to drag him from his proud position of First Citizen into the filthy pools of politics has cost him a round sum. Shortly after his return from his trip around the globe Secretary Evarts contemplated tendering him the position of Embassador—the highest known to our State service—and send him to China to revise existing treaties and settle the vexatious questions which have arisen between our country and the Celestial Empire. It was intended to allow him $50,000 for expenses, but Mr. Evarts feared that his motives in sending the great man out of the country would be construed to mean a boost for the Sherman movement, and so he refrained. We are authorized to say that Mr. Grant is open now to any little jobs of this character that the Secretary may have to let.

THE sad announcement is made that the Volksstimme des Westens, the daily organ of the Socialists and the Labor party, is about to turn its journalistic toes to the daisies. The crisis has been brought about by the lack of harmony among the labor leaders of St. Louis and the consequent failure to realize money from those who have heretofore contributed to its support. The Volksstimme has, in fact, been in articulo mortis for several weeks. Some weeks ago Mr. Albert Currlin retired from the chief editorship and established a bakery, and Col. Bartholemy, the portly associate editor, retired to the shadowy retreats of Warren county, where he is now setting type on a rural organ. The Labor party has gone to pieces in St. Louis, and, unless it is powerfully galvanized, will take no part in the coming elections.

THE public of St. Louis is about to rise in condemnation of the manner in which the census has been taken in this city. We all know that our city is much larger than Chicago, and the smallest schoolboy will tell you that we have over a half million souls here, yet the census supervisors, if reports be true, are ready to declare that we have hardly 400,000. These census fellows do not know what perils confront them. St. Louis insists on having a half-million inhabitants, and will make it hot for the reckless enumerators who dare to put us along with Chicago and Cincinnati. We advise them to revise their returns at once and thereby escape the wrath of an outraged people.

ATTORNEY-GEN. DEVENS, introducing Garfield to his Washington worshippers last night, spoke of him as a soldier whose "shield was unsoiled and whose sword was spotless." We have heard that said about the sword before. A good soldier, it seems to us, who fights diligently should manage to soil his shield with dirt and smirch his sword with gore, especially if he intends to run for an office.

MR. BOB MACDONALD, the active officer of the Anti-Cruelty to Animals Society, will find plenty to do if he will only keep his eagle eye on the main thoroughfares of the city. Blind and painfully spavined horses drawing immense loads, and three-legged mules harnessed to coal wagons are becoming alarmingly numerous. To see a helpless animal stand in the broiling sun all day, or a superannuated horse with a broken knee hobbling in front of beer wagon, are not spectacles for a Christian community. The great defender of dumb creation should let himself out this summer.

BEING asked by a subscriber whether Chester A. Arthur was removed from the New York Custom-house on account of personal dishonesty or simply by way of joke, the Cincinnati Commercial responds: "He was not removed on account of personal dishonesty, but as a representative of a faulty system." The probabilities are that Captain Kidd died in the full belief that his life was being sacrificed to "a faulty system."

WE observe, from some of the woodcuts extant, that Gen. Chester A. Arthur is the owner of a pair of magnificent mutton-chop whiskers of the Southdown variety. We do not believe that the American people, after witnessing the miserable failure of Gen. Ambrose Epictitus Burnside as a statesman, will ever elevate a pair of whiskers, with a man attached, to even so insignificant an office as that of Vice-President.

BROTHER HENRY WARD BEECHER was sorely disappointed by the result of the Chicago Convention. He wanted a strong man in the person of Grant. On Sunday last he took occasion in his sermon to coldly give in his adherence to the Rev. De Golyer Garfield, but he was not slow to remark that while the ticket was a good one the convention might have done much better.

AT last advices Hon. Horatio Seymour was delivering an address to a lot of young ladies at a school in Aurora, N. Y. A man who can do that sort of work has no right to claim that he is too old to make a race for the Presidency. Fancy Sam Tilden before a house full of young ladies, giving them good advice and saying sweet things!

THE New York Tribune continues to be deliciously hilarious over the nomination of J. Abraham Garfield, but its silence on the subject of C. Absolom Arthur is still dense and painful. We hope that Abe and Ab. will enjoy an equal chance in the battle of life.]

MANY years have elapsed since Garfield straddled a mule on the banks of the Ohio canal, yet citizens of that state who are now engaged in dredging that artificial water course are finding its bottom coated with a large quantity of corruption.

THE gentle breezes which sweep down from the snow-covered fields of Minnesota are very grateful and refreshing, but the sudden checking of perspiration has a tendency to produce biliousness. What St. Louis needs now is blue mass.

JOHN KELLY writes to a friend in Baltimore denying the report of his compromise with Tilden and reiterating his oft-repeated assertion that he will not support the great invalid if he shall be nominated.

SIXTY THOUSAND tons of ice stored on the banks of the Upper Mississippi were washed into the river the other day, and St. Louis people make juleps now at a trifling cost.

PERSONAL.

—Blaine speaks listlessly of the probabilities of success.

—Senator Hoar has at Worcester, Mass., one of the finest private libraries in the country.

—Mrs. General Sherman has gone with her youngest daughter to stay at St. Catherine's, Canada.

—The late pronunciation of Cæsar is Cheeser. Would Horatio Seymour's nomination be cheeser-ism?

—Senator Hampton, with his daughter, Miss Daisy Hampton, will spend the summer at a Virginia watering-place.

—When the Czar proposes to visit a theater or concert the fact is made known, and the ladies are obliged to appear in white dresses.

—No less than thirty pearl divers in the Persian Gulf fell victims to the sharks during the last year. This low rate of mortality would hardly be noticable on Wall street.

—Rubinstein lives in a large villa at Peterhof and his study overlooks the sea. His kitchen is the best appointed room in the house. He does not wish that his children should understand anything about music.

—Silly women who think that Senator Conkling is quite too dreadfully nice for anything will be surprised to learn that his name is not Roscoe at all, but Samuel. He was named after an uncle, but at the age of ten found the name Roscoe in a novel, and has been since called by it.

—King Louis, of Bavaria, is an uncomfortable sort of ruler. He has an unpleasant habit of rising very late in the morning and not going to bed until the following morning, which involves sending for his secretary in the middle of the night to transact State business. The unfortunate official always finds his Majesty on the alert and vigorous as a bird at cock-crow.

SEYMOUR WILLING.

He Will Accept a Nomination if Tendered Him.

[Syracuse Special to Chicago Times, 16th.]

Horatio Seymour spent an hour in Syracuse to-day, while en route to Aurora, N. Y., whither he goes to deliver an address to the young ladies of the Wells College, on the occasion of their annual commencement exercises. He was greeted at the depot by several prominent politicians and friends, who spoke freely to him of the Presidential question.

Referring jocularly to the fact that a local paper is "booming" for him, the old statesman said: "You people up here are getting me into a scrape. Why can't you let an old man alone? You have no idea how prostrated I am." The remark was received with laughter, as Gov. Seymour was the very picture of good health. It was the general remark of his oldest friends present that he has not looked so vigorous in three decades. "I am too old to re-enter politics again," he continued.

"You are only four years older than Mr. Tilden," said a gentleman in the throng, "and he does not offer age as an excuse for not running."

"He is too old, too; we are both too old," rejoined the Governor.

"Well," remarked United States Commissioner B. Davis Noxon, an old friend of the statesman, "no man has a right to seek a nomination for President, and when nominated has no right to decline." Gov. Seymour made no effort to controvert this axiom, but nodded a half approval.

"I see," said one of the gentlemen. "that the New York Herald says that Tilden will possibly draw out of the contest in your favor."

The Governor laughed at the idea, and said, "Well, if there is anybody who has a right to say that I will be a candidate, that is Mr. Tilden."

The Times correspondent conversed to-night with the gentlemen present at the interview, among whom is H. H. Northring, editor of the Courier; United States Commissioner Noxon, who was Gov. Seymour's private secretary in 1863-4, and Andrew H. Green, brother of Gen. John Green, who nominated Gov. Seymour for President at Tammany Hall in 1868. None of these gentlemen heard Gov. Seymour say that he would decline if nominated, and all believe he would accept. Gov. Seymour will be absent from Utica during the Cincinnati convention on business, in a remote village called Olean. He goes there probably to escape the worry of the convention excitement, and to be out of the reach of the telegraph. He is accompanied by his brother, John T. Seymour. There is no doubt that Seymour's name will be pressed at Cincinnati. An organized effort in his behalf will certainly be made at the convention. Judge George F. Comstock and Judge Wm. C. Ruger, of this city, neither of whom are delegates, will leave Syracuse for Cincinnati this week to further Seymour's success. Other equally strong men will go on the same mission.

He Will Accept.

[From To-day's St. Louis Times.]

The indications for two or three days past have multiplied in favor of the nomination of Mr. Seymour. He has given more than a coloring of probability to the belief that he will accept the nomination. We interpret his refusal at this moment, and under the pressure of numerous earnest inquiries from those who have a right to know his purposes, to give a distinct and final negative as an intimation from him that he will accept. There have not been wanting expressions of his which could be interpreted that he would not accede to the wish of his friends, but the weight of probability is this morning in favor of his being nominated by his own acquiescence.

A Call on Le Duc.

[From the New York Sun.]

Le Duc's true sphere of operations at this moment is to check the army worm. Should he do that, his eccentricities in tea-raising and bamboo canes might be forgotten or forgiven; he would do something to demonstrate the utility of his department. But who would look to Le Duc for such a practical benefit?

Sons of Ohio Men.

[From the Cincinnati Commercial.]

Uncle Dick has three boys—Bill, Jim and Dick. Mr. Jewett has a son George, and Mr. Payne has two healthy boys, Nate and Oliver. Now if these sons of their fathers would pool their issue and combine on one of the fathers, they might worry the other candidates.

A New Combination.

[From the Washington Post.]

For President, Jeremiah S. Black, of Pennsylvania; for Vice-President, Abram S. Hewitt, of New York. For President, Abram S. Hewitt, of New York; for Vice-President, William R. Morrison, of Illinois. How would either of those tickets do at Cincinnati?

The First Citizen.

[From the Cincinnati Commercial.]

It is pleasant to see General Grant—the Third Term fold blown over—falling not ungracefully into the position of first citizen. He is better received by the public since Chicago than before.

Arthur's Opinion.

[From the Philadelphia Times.]

General Arthur is firmly of the opinion that General Garfield ought to get off the ticket. Failing in this, he thinks that at least he ought to change places.

An Unfortunate Patronymic.

[From the Courier-Journal.]

Chester Absalom Arthur. Absalom was a very bad young man; very indiscreet, corrupt and withal a rebel.

Will See You Later.

[From the Chicago Times.]

Will the Cincinnati nominee be Ulysses S. Grant?

New Wheat Flour From Illinois.

Messrs. Imbs, Meyer & Co. displayed a sample of all new wheat flour on 'Change to-day, manufactured by Mr. T. Koenigsmark, proprietor of the celebrated Gardner Mills, Columbia, Ill. The wheat was raised by Mr. Christian Dahmar on Mr. Geo. Divers' 400-acre farm in the American Bottom. The flour was of superior quality, and sold to Messrs. Jos. Garneau & Co. one hundred barrels at the fancy price of $6 per barrel, they having been the purchasers of first new wheat flour from this mill for several years past.

NORTH ST. LOUIS LOCALS.

Next Tuesday evening Rev. Mr. Wright will be installed as pastor of the Fairmount Presbyterian Church, Ninth and Salisbury streets, and the event will be one of much interest.

This morning the 300 lumber pilers who have been out on a strike for the last eighteen days resumed work at the diffesent yards, but will receive no advance in their pay, and will only receive the old rates, $2 per day.

Officer Jerry McCarthy this morning arrested Bridget Clark, who had gone through the residence of Mrs. Smith, 1728 North Eighth street, and carried off all of the knives and forks. A warrant will be sworn out this afternoon.

Three members of the Young Men's Democratic Club have been appointed to confer with the Central Club of Lowell, looking towards a consolidation of both clubs, which will probably be done to-morrow evening at their special meeting.

Last night Officer Niehaus arrested two young men for having in their possession two large copper kettles valued at $40, which had been stolen from Gage's Missouri Stove Foundry. They were both locked up and a warrant sworn out against them.

Yesterday evening at 4 o'clock Mrs. Elizabeth H. Keefer died very suddenly, and her loss is deeply mourned, as she was in every respect a lady highly respected, and a true Christian. The burial takes places to-morrow at 2 o'clock from the North St. Louis Christian Church.

DUNN AND THE DELEGATES.

The Ex-Superintendent of Public Lamps Remanded to Jail.

He Applies for a Writ of Habeas Corpus, Which the Court of Appeals Refuses to Grant.

Charles E. Dunn, who was arrested by order of the House of Delegates and committed to jail for not appearing and producing a certain memorandum book, which he kept while acting in the capacity of Superintendent of the public lamps, in the employ of Socrates Newman, the receiver of the St. Louis Gas Light Company, applied for a writ of habeas corpus, which the Court of Appeals heard and overruled this morning, deciding that he must either pay his fine or serve out his term in prison.

THE CASE.

On May the 20th, 1880, a subpœna duces tecum was issued under the hand of the Speaker of the House of Delegates, directed to Dunn, commanding him to appear the same day before the committee appointed by that body, and testify in a certain matter relating to the Gas Company, and bring with him for inspection a book called the lamp book, kept by him while in the employ of Socrates Newman. This subpœna was duly served on the petitioner, who appeared before the committee, but refused to produce the book, alleging as a reason for his conduct that the book was his own private property, and that neither the city of St. Louis nor the House of Delegates, nor any officer thereof, had a legal right or the power to compel him to disclose his private memoranda, or to deprive him of his property, without due course of law. Thereupon a warrant was issued by the Speaker pro tem. of the House of Delegates directed to the Sergeant-at-Arms, commanding him to arrest the offender and bring him before the House to answer for contempt. The House fined him $20, with imprisonment in the City Jail for a term of three days upon his refusal to pay the fine. He refused to pay the fine and was committed. The Jailor's return to showed substantially the causes above recited for the offender's detention. Dunn demurred to this return, claiming that it failed to show sufficient authority for his imprisonment. In passing upon the demurrer this morning the Court said: "We do not understand that the witness who is served with a subpœna duces tecum is entitled to be informed from it that the book or paper to be produced is material to the inquiry on hand, or that any other of the numerous requisites insisted on for the petitioner (Dunn) are recognized in practice as pertaining to that process.

"It has long been understood that the constitutional guarantees against unreasonable searches and seizures, against depriving any person of life, liberty or property without due process of law, and in favor of the trial by jury, have no application to the compulsory production of muniments of testimony under proper authority, or to commitments for contempt by any tribunal lawfully acting in a quasi judicial capacity. Among the inherent powers possessed by the House of Delegates is that of acquiring certain knowlege, in order to assist members in the proper performance of their legislative duties. It must inquire into the condition of the various departments of the municipal government, the official conduct of its officers, agents and servants; and the legislative needs of different localities within the corporate territorial limits. To do this it has witnesses before it and possesses the power to demand the production of books and papers material to the business under consideration." All the Judges concurred in the opinion, and ordered Dunn to be taken into custody.

THE VOLKSSTIMME.

The St. Louis Socialistic Organ in a Critical Condition—Some Money Must be Raised To-Day or To-Morrow or It Goes by the Board.

The Volksstimme des Westens, a daily newspaper that has the honor of being the organ of the Socialistic Labor party in this city, seems to be in a bad way. It was started in 1877, and its office was originally on Fifth street near Morgan, but for the last year or so it has been on Walnut street in front of the Southern Hotel ruins. It led a somewhat precarious existence from the first, depending entirely upon the German-speaking Socialists for its support. In its palmiest days it probably never had a circulation exceeding 3,000, on Sundays sometimes running up to 3,500. Mr. Albert Currlin, who succeeded in making a local reputation as was for a long time its editor, and one of the first indications of its waning condition was his abandonment of it some months ago for the more lucrative business of running a bakery on Biddle street. A Mr. Bartholemy was also associated in the editorial management, but he too deserted the ship some time ago, and is now setting type in the town of Warrenton, out in the State, on the Wabash, St. Louis and Pacific Railroad. The paper was started by contributions from the Socialistic Labor party, but it never had a press of its own, and the other material in the office was never worth over $700. For the past few months it is understood to have not paid expenses, and two or three assessments had to be made for the purpose of keeping the craft afloat. This had the not unnatural effect of getting up a row among its financial backers, and after Currlin and Bartholemy left it was turned over to the printers and they were told to make the best use of it they could. For several weeks it has really been run without much editing and things have gone from bad to worse. On yesterday the printers entered into a negotiation to dispose of the property to who has been connected with the Anzeiger and who made a reputation last fall in the reporters' walking match at the Rink. In that contest he got one of the prizes—the one for the slowest walker. Mr. Wilstaedt agreed to take the Volksstimme on condition that he be allowed to pay for it in installments and on condition that the printers accept his individual notes, due four weeks before the coming general election, for their back pay. It was expected that Mr. Wilstaedt would take immediate charge, but he had not done so at 10 o'clock this morning, though it may be that he is on his way from the Anzeiger office up to the Volksstimme office. It must be remembered that he is the champion slow pedestrian of the city. If, however, he does not arrive at his destination some time to-day he may find that the crisis has come ahead of him and the paper suspended. Those in charge now say this will be the case unless some money is raised to-day or to-morrow.

A False Alarm.

An alarm of fire was turned on from Main and Plum streets to-day at twenty minutes to 1 o'clock, and half a dozen engines and hose carriages were on the ground in a jiffy, but the fire was out and therefore there was no need for their valuable services.

WM. L. MORRISON.

The Illinois Presidential Possibility in the City.

A Chat With Him at the Lindell This Morning—Talks With Returning Congressmen.

The Hon. Wm. L. Morrison, of Waterloo, Ill., arrived in the city this morning, coming direct from Chicago. Mr. Morrison has always in years past stopped at the Planters' House, but, being very prominently before the public as a candidate for the Presidential nomination, he to-day went to the Lindell. Early in the morning he took a pleasant drive in the company of Mr. Robert Tansey, retiring to the hotel shortly before 11 o'clock. A number of Mr. Morrison's Illinois friends and admirers, apprised of his coming, were at the hotel waiting for him. When a reporter of the POST-DISPATCH called at the hotel, Mr. Morrison was seated in a corner of the gents' waiting room, surrounded by

A GROUP OF FRIENDS,

who were listening to a series of humorous stories which he was telling. In the party were Col. J. L. D. Morrison, cousin to the great possibility; Col. H. Wike, from Jersey county, Illinois, delegate to the Cincinnati Convention; Timothy Gruatz, of Highland, Illinois; Chas. Lanphear, formerly editor of the Illinois State Register; Hon. John H. Oberly, the Democratic candidate for Secretary of State in Illinois; R. A. D. Wilbanks, of Mt. Vernon, a candidate for the Illinois Legislature; Prosecuting Attorney Murphy, of Pinckneyville; Judge Wall, of Duquoin, and Will M. Gareshe, of Madison county. Mr. Morrison was telling, with great relish, a little incident that happened a week or so ago, when Congressmen Wykoff and Hunton were discussing the presidential outlook in Washington. Morrison was standing behind Hunton, who was not aware of his presence. Wykoff was, and, with a wink at Morrison, he asked Hunton for an expression as to his availability as a candidate. Hunton replied: "If Bill Morrison is put into the White House we will have more honesty and integrity and less manners than we ever had there before." Hunton turned around as he said this and recognized Morrison, and then the laugh was on him. The Illinois Congressman, when he went home, told his wife about it. She said, "Mr. Hunton ought not to have said that if he is a friend of yours, but what he said is about true, William."

Col. Morrison then related

AN EXPERIENCE IN CHICAGO

yesterday. He had called in to see Mayor Carter Harrison, and in the most good-humored manner began an interchange of badinage about the outlook. Referring to the fact that Harrison, who was one of his original supporters, had gone over to Seymour, he laughingly said, "So you have left a dead man to go to another corpse." A reporter of the Evening Journal was present and overheard the chaff, which an hour later appeared in the evening issue, in what Col. Morrison insists is a most untruthful and offensive form. The general idea one would gather from the report would be that the two had quarreled violently.

NO INTERVIEW FOR HIM.

When a POST-DISPATCH reporter called Col. Morrison aside and expressed a desire for an interview he promptly replied that it would be the height of impropriety for him under the circumstances to say anything about the situation. He will remain at the Lindell Hotel until to-morrow evening, when he will go home and remain there quietly for some weeks.

Returning Congressmen.

A number of Western Congressmen left Washington for home on Tuesday night, and this morning the Hon. Erastus Wells arrived in the city. The same train brought in Hon. Aylett H. Buckner, of the Thirteenth, Hon. R. P. Bland, of the Fifth, and James R. Waddill, of the Sixth District. Mr. Buckner did not tarry in the city, but Messrs. Waddill and Bland, with their families, stopped off for needed rest and are at the Planters' House. It is thought that the majority of the Western members will stop off at Cincinnati and wait over for the convention. Mr. Bland courteously submitted to an interview from a POST-DISPATCH reporter, but was somewhat diffident about expressing himself on the Presidency. Mr. Bland believes that Mr. Tilden is a maligned and traduced man, but there is a great doubt about his carrying New York State, and he does not for that reason seem to be an available candidate. Seymour and Hendricks, Seymour and McDonald, Thurman, Morrison, Hancock or any good Democrat would be heartily supported by the entire party, and elected. Congressman Waddill said that he had frequently defined his position in the Presidential race, and had no reason to change it now. He does not believe Tilden can get a nomination, and even if he did his election would be a matter of doubt. There are plenty of good men in the party for the place, any one of whom can be elected.

Off For Cincinnati.

The Hon. James Craig, of St. Joseph, delegate at large to the Cincinnati Convention, is in the city and at the Planters' House. He will leave for Cincinnati on Saturday night with the Missouri delegation. The delegation leaving on that night will be very large. Major Wicker, Superintendent of the Pullman Palace Car Company at this point, has telegraphed for a number of extra coaches and all will be accommodated.

SWEET GIRL GRADUATES.

The Commencement Exercises at the Visitation Convent.

The commencement exercises of the Visitation Convent took place to-day, the doors being thrown open at 3 o'clock. The graduation exercises of this convent always bring together a large gathering of the best Catholic families in St. Louis, and to-day was no exception to the rule. In the audience to-day were the Rt. Rev. Bishop Ryan, Brother James, Fathers Walsh, Henry, Phelan, Hayes, McCaffrey, McCabe, Brantner, Hardy, Zeigler, Kielty, Brady, Keller, S. J., and a host of other clergymen, Hon. W. H. Phelan, Mr. J. Peres, Mr. Biggins, Mr. Fenton, Mrs. and Miss Phelan, Mrs. and Miss McEnnis and Miss Brooks, Mrs. and Miss Brislin and Miss Summers, Miss Nelly Sheehan, Dr. and Mrs. Brennan, Mr. and Mrs. Noonan, Mr. and Mrs. Ogle, Mrs. Donnelly, Mr. James Donnelly, Mr. Dan Mullen, Mr. J. G. Goodwin, Mr. Syl. Savignac, Mr. John F. Magner, Miss Pugh, Miss Kelly, Miss Byrne and a large number of others.

The programme contained a number of excellent features, the harp playing of Donna Sessavia Perea being simply exquisite. The Miss Gavins' and Miss Biggins' singing was honored with immense applause. At the conclusion the sweet girl graduates of the year, Miss Mamie Biggins, of Alton, and Miss Jessie Fenton, came forward and received their degrees. The convent was never in a more flourishing condition than at present. Mother Amie, the Superioress, Sister Jane Frances, Sister Benedicta, Sister Paula and the whole of the teaching corps have succeeded in doing more with the girls under their care than has been done even at this popular institution before.

Court of Criminal Correction.

Searing Marsh, a policeman, was fined $5 and the costs for beating Hugh Slowey, a baggageman, at the Union Depot on the 12th of April. The case of Hattie Ruland, charged with petit larceny, was nolle pros'ed, the prosecuting witness having found the pocket-book with the theft of which she had accused Ruland. Joseph Khio was tried for petit larceny and was discharged.

Second District Police Court.

Twenty-five offenders were arraigned in this court to-day. Walter Green, alias Scott, was assessed $50 for frequenting bawdy houses. David Scott was fined the same amount for trespassing. For disturbing the peace, Judge Dennison imposed the following fines: J. C. Hulen, M. McCune, $5 each; Tom White, $15; Mrs. Woods, $10, and Louis Leppe, costs. Louis Wedig was fined costs for failing to have the number on his wagon. A license case against the same defendant was nolle pros'ed. Jennie McCarthy failed to show why she ventured on some private property, and was consequently fined $25. A case against Wm. King for being an idler was nolle pros'ed, and a case of confidence game continued. Jas. Daly had no visible means of support and was fined $25. James Firman was arrested with a knife, considered by the police a deadly weapon, in his sleeve, and was fined $10. A case against Lavinia Hill was nolle pros'ed, and a case against Cornelia Anderson dismissed for want of prosecution. Minnie Logan, an inmate, was fined $10. Several cases were continued.

CARONDELET JOTTINGS.

There is weeping and wailing on account of the edict issued by Captain Kennett that on and after Wednesday next all persons owning a dog or dogs not licensed will be brought before the Police Court. The officers are now taking a census of the dogs and the owners, for the Captain has announced his determination to enforce an ordinance which has for a long time been looked upon as a dead letter. If carried out the effect will be to rid the place of several hundred worthless dogs that are not worth procuring a license for. Persons who have dogs to which they are attached will, of course, procure a license, instead of, as heretofore in many instances, keeping a watch for the dog-catchers. The lowest penalty for keeping a dog without license is $5—the highest, $50. It is quite likely that there will be more animals of this class without owners than ever before seen in Carondelet.

PARLIAMENT.

LONDON, June 17.—In the House of Commons to-day, the Speaker having expunged from the notice the paper portion of O'Donnell's further question concerning Challamel La Cour, O'Donnell endeavored to put the question in the original form. He said he desired to bring the Speaker's action before the House. The Speaker threatened other steps if he persisted. O'Donnell, after an exciting scene, declined to put the question, and quitted the House.

MONEY.

The volume of business transacted at the banks was about up to the usual average of the current month, and there was but little of interest to observe. Money was plenty and the discount market easy at 4@6 per cent on call for large sums on fancy collaterals, and 6@8 per cent on good business paper. The movement of currency to the country was small. New York exchange sold between banks at 25c premium per $1,000 to par. Messrs. P. F. Kelleher made a sale on 'Change to-day of 100 stock bonds of Bourbon county, Kas., the par value of which was $1,000 each. These bonds are payable on January 1 and July 1, with seven per cent interest, and are due thirty years from July, 1870. John A. Scudder was the purchaser, paying $10,000 for the lot.

On 'Change.

Stock of lard in New York on the 15th inst. was 60,892 tcs of all kinds, against 67,186 tcs a month ago and 143,391 tcs a year ago.

The statistician of the New York Produce Exchange reports the engagements of wheat from four seaboard ports for Tuesday at 1,250,000 bu.

Imports of flour and grain into the United Kingdom for week ending June 12 were 95,000 sacks and barrels of flour, 255,000 qrs. wheat, 160,000 qrs. corn.

The stock of oats in Iowa is said to be very large, one river town alone holding over 70,000 bushels. Receipts of sacked oats in this market have been and are far in excess of the limited demand that prevails, and the outlook is far from encouraging for any immediate improvement to this demand.

While the May corner in wheat came to a most inglorious end and lost money for the parties having it in hand, there is a probability that this month will be successfully squeezed. The only thing to prevent it is large receipts of the new crop of a good enough quality to grade No. 2 red, and be delivered upon contract. So far there has been very little received, and if the harvest is kept back by wet weather, it is expected that the arrivals for the balance of the month will be small. Nearly all the stock of No. 2 red is in the hands of one party, and while there is no shipping movement at present, the milling demand is becoming rather urgent, as most city millers are pretty nearly out of stock. That shorts are getting anxious is shown by the strength of June to-day, for which there were more buyers than sellers.

MORNING BOARD—FUTURES.

Wheat—The scarcity of cash No. 2 red and the stiffness with which the stock was held off the market caused buyers to pay higher rates, sales being made at $1 07; but later $1 07⅛ was bid for car lots, and a "jug" of 80,000 bushels could have been placed at $1 08, that being bid the principal holder for that amount. In sympathy, June exhibited considerable strength, having more buyers than sellers and advancing, with sales at $1 01⅞@1 02⅛, closing at $1 02. Other options were unsettled and irregular, but slightly better at close. July sold at 89⅞@90⅛c, closing at 89⅞c; August at 87⅞@87⅞c, closing at 87⅞c asked; September at 86⅛c—later 86⅝c bid; year at 85½c, closing at 85⅝c bid.

Corn—A stronger feeling was observable, with a firm but quiet market all through. Cash No. 2 mixed sold readily to shippers at 35⅜@35⅝c, June at 34⅜@34⅞c, August at 34⅜@34⅝c, July not salable above 34⅜c. No. 2 white mixed for cash advanced to 37@37⅛c, but futures were neglected.

Oats—While cash No. 2 was firm at 29⅛@29c, the demand for it was small and the market dull. Futures stiffened up a trifle, June selling at 29⅛c and July at 23⅞@24c, but June was salable later at 29 3-16c.

CASH SALES—MORNING BOARD.

Flour—Receipts 3,937 brls; shipments by rail 4,694 brls. Better grades scarce and firm; low grades dull and unchanged.

Wheat—Stock of No. 2 red held by one party, who stiffly asks a high rate. Car lots salable at close at $1 07⅛, and $1 08 bid for a round lot of 80,000 bushels. Demand pressing from millers. The supply was very light of both grades and sample lots, and little was done. No strictly choice lots reported.

Corn—Grades—No. 2 white-mixed in light offering, with a good export and milling demand and a firmer market, selling at 37 regular and 37¼ early to 37 at close St L (⅛c up); rejected do wanted by millers at 36¼ Cen and 36 St L and E St L, none offered; No. 2 mixed in brisk shipping and speculative request at ⅛@⅜ advance; rejected overplenty, dull and ⅛c off at 31. Samples—Market bare, choice to fancy St. Charles white salable at 44@45, mixed at 36@36⅛ and white-mixed 37⅛@38.

Oats—Grades—No. 2 white and rejected quiet and unchanged at 30 and 27⅛ respectively; No. 2 in good speculative demand at 29 str fr reg and 29⅛ do St L; Cen was offered and untaken at 28⅞. Samples—Dull and dragging; sales of prime mixed at 34 early to 33½ at close, when feeling was weak.

Rye—Receipts 900 bu; shipments by rail 382 bu; stock 19,439 bu. No. 2 higher at 81⅛ (2 cars in St. L at that) but quiet; rejected had 69 (2c higher) bid, with 72 asked; small lot prime by sample at 77, and 265 sks choice at 80c.

Barley—Receipts 1,100 bu; no shipments by rail; stock 1,069 bu. Season over; nothing doing.

Hay—Receipts, 1,112 bales; shipments by rail 246 bales. Dull as ever and the outlook for the near future anything but encouraging to receivers. Market at the mercy of buyers. Sales: This side—1 car damaged timothy $6; 1 car overripe do $8; 2 low prime timothy $10 50; 1 choice do $14. On East tracks—4 cars strictly prime tomothy $10 75@11; 1 car choice quarter bales $12.

Millfeed—Steady. Sales: In sacks—3 cars bran E. trk 43@44; 2 cars do at mill 43. In bulk—2 cars E. trk 36; part car middlings at mill 80c.

Provisions—There was a firm and generally higher market for almost every part of the hog product.

Pork—Sales: 140 brls mess f. o. b. east side at $11 25; on orders, 170 brls $11 50.

D. S. Meat—Sales: 100,000 lbs loose clear ribs up country at 6⅛, freight 10. We quote loose shoulders here at 4.20@4¼; clear ribs 6.55@6.60; clear sides 6⅞@6.80.

S. P. Shoulders—Sales 3 cars August delivery p. t.

Bacon—Stiff and higher and business curtailed by the firmness of sellers. Sales, 3 cars c. s. c. hams to arrive p. t.; 15 boxes breakfast bacon 10⅛; 50 tcs c. s. c. hams 9⅛@10⅛; 200 pkgs: Shoulders 5, clear ribs 7¼, clear sides 7⅛; on orders, shoulders 5@5⅛, clear ribs 7⅛, clear sides 7⅜.

Lard—Market firm, but we hear of no sales. Prime steam nominal at 6.55@6.60; small sales refined tierce on orders at 7⅛.

Tobacco—Market quiet and unchanged. Sales 14 hhds: 3 at $1 50; 3 at $3 10@3 80; 1 at $1 70; 2 at $5@5 90; 1 at $6 45; 1 at $10 25; 1 at $11 75; 1 at $16; 1 at $18 75. Bids rejected on 18 hhds: 13 at $3 20; 3 at $4@4 20; 1 at $5; 1 at $9 75.

CATTLE—There was a good deal of activity in the cattle market this forenoon and the fair supply was worked off at strong prices. Eastern shippers and exporters were the leading operators, they taking fair to good native steers of 1,100 to 1,450 lbs, and for which they paid from $4 25@4 75 for 100 lbs. Extra heavy steers in light supply and moderate inquiry, and the few droves offered somewhat hard of disposal at weak prices. Shippers exhibited a little caution in taking hold of these and preferred good light native steers. Mixed native butchers' stuff in small supply and demand. Offerings of grass Texans, some forty loads, which found ready sale at unchanged prices—that is, on fair to good. Common dull and not wanted. Stock and feeding steers slow and unchanged. Milch cows with calves quiet. By the hour of noon the supply had all changed hands. Yesterday afternoon there was considerable activity, and prices ranged at $2 75@4 75 ₩ 100 lbs. Ruling quotations steady.

SPECIAL COMMISSIONER'S SALE OF REAL ESTATE IN PARTITION.—Notice is hereby given that the Circuit Court City of St. Louis, on the 14th day of June, 1880, in a certain cause numbered 53,686, June term, 1880, and pending in said court, wherein Elise M. Vandervoort and Charles L. Vandervoort, her husband, Ida D. M. Poertner, Laura A. L. Poertner, by her curator, Jacob Klein, and Charles H. Poertner, by his curator, Jacob Klein, are petitioners, ex parte, for partition, rendered judgment that partition among said petitioners be made of two certain pieces of real estate, owned by said petitioners in fee simple, situated in the city of St. Louis, State of Missouri, and described as follows, to-wit:

First. A lot or parcel of ground, being lot number three (3) of block number twenty (20) of Julia C. Soulard's addition to the city of St. Louis, State of Missouri, according to a plat of said addition on file in the Recorder's office of said city, and containing a front of thirty (30) feet on the west side of Jackson street, and one hundred and forty (140) feet in depth to a twenty (20) foot alley.

Second. A lot of ground situated in block eighteen (18) of survey number three (3) of the Carondelet Commons, north of the River des Peres: Commencing at a point in the north line of Franklin street, one hundred and seventy (170) feet eastwardly from the northwest corner of Franklin street and Jackson street, thence running eastwardly on the north line of Franklin street forty (40) feet, thence northwardly and parallel with Benton street one hundred and fifty (150) feet, thence westwardly and parallel with Franklin street forty (40) feet, thence southwardly and parallel with Jackson street one hundred and fifty (150) feet to the place of beginning; and being a lot of ground forty (40) feet front on the north side of Franklin street and running with that width northwardly one hundred and fifty (150) feet to the south line of a contemplated alley running from east to west.

And the said Court, finding that said parcels of land were not susceptible of partition in kind among the petitioners without great prejudice to them as owners, then and there ordered and adjudged that the same be sold according to law, and appointed the undersigned as special commissioner for said purpose.

Now, therefore, the undersigned, having duly qualified as such commissioner in pursuance of said order of sale, and by authority of law, will expose said parcels of land and premises above described for sale at public auction, to the highest bidder, at the east front door of the Court-house in said city of St. Louis, on MONDAY, THE 12TH DAY OF JULY, 1880, between the hours of ten o'clock a. m. and four o'clock p. m. of said day.

Terms of sale: One-third cash, balance in two equal installments payable in one and two years from day of sale, with six per cent interest per annum, deferred payments to be secured by a deed of trust on the property sold.

There are now under contract the Texas Pacific, the International, the East Line and the St. Louis and Texas, and all the laborers in Texas seem to be employed. It was to recruit a force of additional laborers that Mr. Scullin came to St. Louis, and so badly does he want men that he will pay $2 per day and furnish free transportation to the work and back again.

THE CHILDREN'S DAY.

Closing of the Schools for the Summer Vacation.

Exhibitions and Exercises---The Kindergarten Divisions.

A Joyous Time Indulged in by the Pupils of the Public Schools.

The Approach of the Holidays Greeted With Enthusiasm by the Juveniles.

Vacation begins to-day, and the fifty thousand young ones of St. Louis are on tiptoe with excitement at the close of their year's work and the beginning of three months' play. Fifty thousand bright little faces, redolent of soapsuds and vigorous friction, a hundred thousand sturdy little legs quieted only for the time being, and a hundred thousand hands in a million different places, are in the public schools to-day, and will be scattered everywhere to-morrow.

The coming holidays are the one theme in every little head, and visions of cool, plashy creeks, of fishing excursions, of miraculous games of base ball, of magical kites, and conversational dolls, of unlimited candy, gingerbread, toys, picture papers, books, fun and mischief are dancing before the bright little eyes all day. Christmas may be all very well in its way, and the young people have no objection to Easter, but for genuine, unalloyed happiness the midsummer holidays fill the juvenile idea. This is the day when they begin to grasp the commencement idea, when pert little masters and pinafored misses get up before the thronged schoolroom and detail the passionate attachment which subsisted between Mary and her little lamb, or portray the celestial twinkling of the historical little star, and perform other oratorical prodigies which contain the germ of what they will do at college in years to come. This is the day when Retribution, with a capital "R," overtakes the tardy and negligent young one that loitered on his way to school, and when envy and malice and all uncharitableness fill their wee hearts, when their irreproachable companions who have been as sweet as huckleberry pie all year are called up to receive their meed of praise. This is the day when the good children are made meekly wretched by being patted on the head and made unpleasantly conspicuous for their abnormal virtue during the year. This is the children's day, in fine, when their doings and beings and sufferings are the one engrossing topic in every St. Louis household, and when the patient matrons begin to look wearily forward to a season of unrest and of manifold patchings, of accidents and of troubles innumerable.

The Clinton.

At the Clinton School, Grattan and Hickory streets, in all the rooms except Nos. 1 and 2 the regular order of the year was followed, the work being interspersed with songs and dialogues to make it interesting. Private examinations were conducted in Nos. 1 and 2. The school has had an average attendance of 1,150 pupils, and during its twelve years of occupation has steadily increased in popularity and attendance owing to its numerous excellencies. The principal, Mr. L. G. Willson, is assisted by an efficient corps of teachers, among whom are Hannah J. Skillman, Jennie M. A. Jones, Laura M. Armstrong, Lucy A. Wiggin, Mary R. Graham, Julia F. Warne, Jessie R. Barnes, Ella M. Brown, Fannie L. Matthews, Sallie George, Nellie F. Tschudi, Leah V. Lightner, Pauline Mueller, Elise Baebenroth, Bertha Olshausen, Fannie Bender.

KINDERGARTEN.

The closing exercises of the morning kindergarten were held at 9 a. m. to-day, and were among the most interesting held in the city. The children formed a pretty spectacle as they followed their teachers through the graceful and complicated movements in the different games. The children were divided into four classes and graded according to their ages. Miss Maggie Gormon, the directress, is assisted by Misses Wilson, Williams and Griffith. The following was the programme of the exercises:

Opening Exercises; Hymn; Prayer; Songs; Bridge; Little Windows; Carpenter; Thrush; Gardener; Finger Songs; Work; Gift Exercise; Occupations; Recitation; Recess; May-Pole; Circle; Distribution of Books.

Miss Ottoline Oberbeck, a pretty little miss of six years, in attendance at the kindergarten, who is studying elocution under Miss Mary A. Hogan, entertained the audience with a selection entitled "Annie's Ticket," which was delivered with grace and force wonderful in one so young. For an encore she gave "A Cure for a Cough," another of her own selection, and later, at special request, she spoke "Little Jim," showing the extent of her abilities to be considerable. After a short recess the programme was concluded, and the pretty teachers took a farewell of their little pupils, who received their work and their prizes and departed with their parents. The hall was packed with parents to witness the closing exercises.

The Penrose School.

At the Penrose School, between Clay and Glasgow avenues, there was no celebration of the day, except in the kindergarten division. The number of enrolled pupils is over 600. Mrs. Orilla Howard is the principal. The regular lessons, examination, promotions, singing and recitations composed the programme for the day. The kindergarten gave an exhibition of exercises, and the schoolroom was crowded with visitors. About 100 children participated. The director is Miss Mary L. Shirley, and Miss Lue Edgar and Miss Nellie McCabe are assistants. The programme of exercises was as follows: Songs—Prayer and Hymn: Good Morning; Pansies; Brown Thrush; Morn; What's This? Light Bird; Pretty Poll; Carpenter; Bridge; This Way Exit; Go to Sleep; Occupation; Recess; Singing; Now the Garden Beds. Games: March to Circle; Farmer; Wheelwright; Skipping Game; Barn Yard; Birds' Nest; Fishes; Bird's Nest and Egg; Baskets; Scissors; Grinder; Cat and Mouse; Good Bye; Distribution of Books; Closing Exercises. The wee little pupils seemed thoroughly to enjoy the singing and games, and entered into everything with a zest which was refreshing to witness. A prettier sight than the schoolroom, with its array of children and numerous visitors ranged around, could not be imagined. The Penrose Kindergarten is the only school in the city which has a small garden attached, and the flowers and vegetables were all planted and tended by the pupils, so that the children received the most practical of lessons. They evince great interest in their garden, and it is a source of constant delight to them.

The Carr.

The Carr School, on Sixteenth and Carr streets, although not at all a large establishment is one of the most perfect in the city. Miss Sarah J. Bacon, the principal, has worked her assistants up to a high state of efficiency and the condition of the school is a credit to the ladies in charge. There are no irregular exercises at this place to-day, the school-work being carried on all through the day. Miss Sophia White called up a class in calisthenics for the edification of the reporter and the principal, and the exercise was certainly a beautiful one. Miss White is a thorough mistress, of the science, and her scholars are a testimony to her efficiency. Miss Lizzie M. Stewart, on the ground floors, was teaching a class of the smallest possible urchins arithmetic. Her method is an excellent one, and the children are all evidently up in their subject. She uses an object method of teaching, a ruler or a hat or a boy being units, and hats and rulers and boys were added and subtracted and multiplied and divided with a facility that made the reportorial head swim. Miss Stewart illustrated many of the combinations upon ten very pretty fingers which were her own personal property, and which the class recognized, or if the class didn't the reporter did, as very nice and appropriate digits. At the Carr School those who were neither absent nor tardy were Pauline Brandt, Lydia Tliemann, Howard Miller, Louis Memges, Elward Bruckner, Walter Meier, Frank Haggenyos, George Biekel, Henry Grafe. In Miss Katie V. Clark's room several litte tots made imposing speeches about the Snake of Silver Lake and other time-honored themes.

The Webster.

One of the oldest schools in the city and certainly the largest is the Webster, presided over for the last twenty years by the veteran teacher Mr. H. W. Miller. This gentleman is now at work on the second generation of his scholars. Children who went to him years ago are now sending their young ones to the same person who inducted them into the mysteries of the Temple of Learning. In the Webster to-day the sessions were devoted to a literary and musical entertainment, with some exhibition of school work. All the old friends of the principal and most of the patrons of the school gathered in to be present at the closing scenes, and the result was a large and brilliant audience, which packed the house. A number of school officials were also present, including Mr. Sessinghaus and Mr. Teuteberg. In each of the rooms there were recitations and songs, and the teachers showed their year's work to have been faithful and worthy from the results presented.

There have been over 2,000 pupils in attendance at the Webster during the year, of which number ninety-one have never been either absent or tardy during the year, and 530 have not been either absent or tardy since they were enrolled.

THE KINDERGARTEN.

The Webster Kindergarten is one of the very best in town, and Miss Nora Dorn, the Misses Brady, Miss Eva Beall, Miss Carroll and Miss Thomas deserve infinite credit for their work. The programme was a very attractive one, including all of the pretty games which make the gartens so pleasant for the young people. Among the songs were "Suppose the little Cowslip" and "All things bright and beautiful," the music of each of these being composed by Miss Dorn and being very pretty indeed. There are 280 children in Miss Dorn's charge.

The Carroll.

There were fewer happy hearts at Carroll School, corner of Buell and Carroll, to-day than at any of the others. Mr. H. M. Tallman, the efficient principal who has directed the affairs of this school for the past ten years, severed his connection at noon to-day. There were but the usual exercises in all the rooms, and at the kindergarten up to 10:30 o'clock this morning, when all the pupils except those of Nos. 1 and 2 were dismissed. The teachers then assembled in No. 1 and after some songs these pupils were dismissed and the teachers sat down to an elegant dinner. Mr. Tallman has been assisted by the following teachers: Miss Douglass, Mary E. Lackay, Sallie E. Hook, Belle L. Johnson, Emma Kayser, Eurydice E. Parr, Claudina M. Meyer, Isabel Gillies, Amanda P. J. Kennedy, Anna E. Wall, Bertha Zobel, Carrie Buckingham, Alice V. Brison, Henrietta Bland, Segrid Smith, Amelia Vogel, Marie Pfeil, Nellie K. Hall, Edna McKinney, Ella M. Brockman, Melinda Wallace, Sallie A. Shawk, Annie O'Leary, Anna G. Stewart, Emily B. Dings, Leonora Althen, Louisa Gottburg.

At the kindergarten the little ones under the direction of Miss Stewart presented an unusually pretty sight, that was enjoyed by all except the teachers, whose sorrow at parting with Mr. Tallman, with whom many of them have been associated for years, was very evident. Early this morning they placed upon his desk an elegant basket of flowers and later presented him with an artistically worked gold watch chain as a token of their high regard. Mr. Tallman has been one of the best principles in the city, and his loss is a serious one to the schools and especially to the people of the Carroll School district. During the present year the attendance has averaged 989.

The Stoddard School.

The Stoddard School, on Lucas and Ewing avenues did not celebrate the day with any particular exercises. The regular routine lessons, etc., went on as usual. The first, second and third divisions, however, this morning arranged an impromptu programme for the morning exercises, and a few visitors were present. Miss Nell Flurry, a young lady pupil, acted as mistress of the ceremonies and presiding officer with much grace and applomb. The exercises commenced with singing by the three classes. Then came an instrumental solo, "Oxen Waltz," which was nicely rendered by Frank Hayden. Miss Clara Suss recited "Rienzi's Address to the Romans" in excellent style. The school sang a song, after which Miss Therese Garnett gave a recitation. Miss Belle Scharff followed with the "Curse Scene," and she displayed remarkable elocutionary and dramatic ability. Her enunciation was clear and distinct and her gestures appropriate.

Walter Atchison recited in an able manner "The Charge of the Light Brigade;" Robert Smith gave selections from "Marthe" on the piano. "When my Ship comes in," a recitation by Miss Mary Howard, was well done. Miss Belle Scharff then recited the humorous account of "Joshua Bean's Courtship," with graphic comic power. Singing brought the exercises to a close. Each number of the programme was enthusiastically applauded, and the pupils evidently enjoyed the proceedings.

Mr. Alfred F. Caldwell is the principal of the Stoddard, which has an enrollment of over 2,200 pupils. Miss Mary B. Cushman is the head assistant, while the addition is presided over by Miss Frances Gruber. Miss Mamie C. McCulloch is director of the morning and Miss Mary D. Runyan of the afternoon kindergarten.

The Eads.

During the year there has been an average of 480 pupils at this school, corner of Fifteenth and Pine, which is a branch of the Elliot. The exercises this morning were confined to the regular business, games being introduced into the order to enliven the day. In room No. 5 a number of the children delivered short verses for the entertainment of the audience. The school is in charge of Eliz. J. Isbell, head assistant, and Kate M. Buckley, Myra W. Ware, Marcella M. Cannon, Mary E. Donohue, Maria V. Degge.

KINDERGARTEN.

At the Kindergarten department, under the care of Clara Hubbard, director, Helen Flad, Laura Rasin, Agnes Ketchum, Huldah Werth and Mary W. Searle, the usual games were played by the little folks, who enjoyed themselves and entertained a large number of grown persons who were present to witness the performance.

Jefferson School.

Nothing unusual transpired in this school to-day to mark the closing hours of the present scholastic year. Pupils were required to pass through the regular routine of recitations, but their beaming faces gave evidence of that silent satisfaction they enjoyed at the prospect of entering upon their long summer vacation. Mr. Edward St. John, George Foerster, George Wolfmeier, Miss Minnie Grote, Miss Blanche Spier, Miss Emma Croghan and Miss Jane Murphy were awarded prizes for perfect attendance, and for excellent scholarship a prize was awarded to Florence McElvry. The institution contains thirty teachers, and the average attendance for the past year has been about 93 per cent. Miss McClure, the efficient principal of the Jefferson School, deserve great credit for the success she has met with in her efforts to educate about 1,200 members of the rising generation.

The Carr Lane.

This school, situated on Twenty-fourth and Carr streets, is one of the largest in the West End. The principal, Mr. Lane, is one of the most experienced teachers in the schools, and his corps of assistants have ably seconded his efforts to make the school one of which Stoddard Addition might be proud. There are 1,474 names upon the register for the closing year, and of these 1,108 are St. Louis born; the average age of the pupils is nine years, and the average number of pupils to each teacher is fifty-eight. There were no particular closing exercises other than the usual school work, as the principal does not believe in the exhibition idea. At the Carr Lane during the past year the following pupils were neither absent nor tardy: Theresa Goe, Sarah Taylor, Jessie Anderson, Emma Schacht, Mary A. McGahan, Blanche Flippen, Robert Baldauf, Clarence Gill, Henry Lubbert, Maud Love, Lilla Kinsella, Jennie Dejong, Emma Rochbein and Eva Pickering. The Carr Lane School has been particularly successful in drawing and the specimens of school-room work which have been prepared for the use of the School Board are very fine, and evince much study and some talent.

The Lincoln School.

The Lincoln School, Eugenia and High, had no exhibition. Mr. John A. Gilfillan, the principal, is opposed to public exhibitions. The morning session was passed in the regular exercises and promotions were made. Mrs. Mary W. Maurice is the head assistant. Of the Lincoln Branch Miss Elizabeth S. Child is the head assistant. The A. M. Kindergarten, which is under the direction of Miss Carrie M. Hart aided by the following assistants: Misses Alice V. Campbell, Annie C. Roth, Blanche Hart, Annie Werden, Eliza Johnson and Maggie Flynn, gave an exhibition, which was witnessed by a numerous attendance. The usual games and songs were indulged in, including the Farmer, the Lizzard, dancing games, several bird games, boats, fishes, etc. The kindergarten numbers about seventy-five pupils. The P. M. Kindergarten gave its exhibition yesterday afternoon under the supervision of Miss Nellie Flynn, director, and Miss Mamie Wiley, assistant. The Lincoln School has over 1,200 enrolled pupils.

The Franklin School.

At the Franklin School, Eighteenth and Lucas avenue, no exercises were held. Instead of the closing exhibition a picnic was organized to the Fair Grounds. At half-past 8 o'clock this morning the pupils assembled at the school, and at 9 they marched in procession to Cass avenue, where the cars were taken for the Fair Grounds. Many of the relatives and friends of the pupils accompanied them. At the grounds a happy day was passed. The children amused themselves with looking at the animals, the monkeys particularly having an irresistible attraction for them. Games of various kinds were indulged in and all were as merry as crickets. The Franklin School has over 1,100 pupils. Mr. Scott H. Blewett is the principal. The kindergarten department is under the direction of Miss Annie E. Harbaugh in the morning and Miss Mattie Johnson in the afternoon.

The Divoll School.

The Divoll School is situated on Dayton and Glasgow avenue. The total number of enrolled pupils for the year is 1,368. No public exhibition was given to-day, but the morning session up to noon when the pupils were dismissed was occupied with the usual exercises. Singing and recitations were indulged in, examination was held and promotions made. Those pupils who were promoted took their seats in the higher classes, so that when the school reopens in the fall everything will be in readiness for work. The attendance at this school has been remarkably good. Mr. A. F. Hamilton is the principal and Miss Jennie L. Whedon head assistant. The A. M. Kindergarten is under the direction of Miss Susie M. Simmons, and of the P. M. Kindergarten Miss Kate Sayers is the director. Several visitors were present at the school and watched the lessons up to the close.

The Benton.

The regular order of the school-day was followed at this institution, which is situated at the corner of Ninth and Locust. In one or two of the rooms, songs and short dialogues were added, and a lunch was set. Benton School certainly has the jolliest set of teachers of any of the schools, and after the morning hours expired they set about talking over the occurrences of the past ten months, and all expressed themselves as well pleased with the result of the work. There has been an attendance of about 740 pupils this year. Miss Harriet N. Jordan, the principal, has had the following assistants: Margaret K. Slater, Mary E. Rains, Louisa V. Musick, Helen G. O'Neil, Julia M. Kelly, Carrie E. Griffith, Annie L. Matthews, Mollie Moylan, Margaret S. Stewart, Augusta La Fayon, Hilda C. Clements, Mary L. Dickson, Amanda Gimbel, Louise Johanssen.

The Pope School.

At the Pope School, corner of Laclede and Ewing avenues, there was no examination. The pupils simply went through their regular lessons, only a little more singing and recitations being indulged in. A few of the lower classes spent the morning in an impromptu exhibition, consisting of music, singing, etc. Examination and promotion were made and the school dismissed at noon. The kindergarten gave its exhibition a week ago.

The Pope School has over 1,000 pupils. Mr. B. F. Hedges is the principal and Miss S. Anna Edgar head assistant. The kindergarten department is under the supervision of Miss Rebecca H. Woodson, director, and Miss Lillie Hammerstien, Miss Maggie Kennedy, Miss Emma Schockley and Miss Ione Stratton, assistants.

The Elliot.

The morning hours were devoted at this school, situated at Fifteenth and Walnut, to making promotions and preperations for work for the next scholastic year. Fanny M. Bacon, the principal, assisted by the following teachers, was busily engaged in this work: Nellie Whyte, Lydia Spater, Mira M. Logan, Rebecca Taylor, Mary Cousland, Augusta Murtfeldt, Fannie A. Robinson, Carrie B. Wright, Eliza A. Stark, Mary E. Dean, Ella Baxter, Mary J. Brady, Sallie W. Griffith, Ella O. Howard. Miss Bacon and her assistants are well pleased with the year's work. There were 1,637 pupils registered at this school during the year, and the average attendance has been excellent.

Chouteau.

This school, on Chouteau avenue west of Pratt, closed with the regular work—432 pupils. The following is the list of teachers: Rachael M. Guss, principal; Halcyon Childs, No. 1; Margaret J. Dunn, No. 2; Amelia Child, No. 3; Mary E. Holton, No. 4; Belle Von Fossen, No. 5; Laura M. Hampson, No. 6; Louise E. Beck, No. 7; Martha M. Wallon, No 8; Mary A. Woodward, No. 9; Emma Kribben, German; Louise E. Beck, German and English; Mr. Hodgden, music. Diehl's system of drawing has been followed and the pupils have made remarkable progress in this.

The Douglas.

At the Douglas, the school work was also suspended, and literary and musical exercises took the place of the usual business, and Mr. Cook's excellent school was the center of gravitation for all who had been children once themselves. The rooms were all filled by the parents of the children and their friends, and possibly such an assembly of good-humored old folks and pretty girls has not been seen in St. Louis since 1837. The exercises were of a high order of mirth and went off well and smoothly.

The Everett School.

A full attendance, embracing about twelve hundred scholars, spent the day at the school by passing a general examination in the presence of a large number of spectators. After recess this morning, the four rooms of the third floor combined and gave a concert, which consisted of choruses, solos, duets and instrumental music. The kindergarten department carried out a short programme, which was loudly applauded by the friends of budding humanity.

The O'Fallon School.

This institution imitated the example of the Jefferson School, and did nothing to mark the last day of the school year. About 1,300 pupils answered to roll-call. The girls entered their classes decked out in their Sunday garments, and the youthful lads of the school faced the music in suits designed for special occasions. The usual recitations, sandwiched between songs that were sung at intervals during the day, constituted the exercises of the occasion.

The Peabody.

The pupils of Peabody School, corner of Carroll and Second Carondelet avenue, picnicked to-day at Forest Park, and consequently there was no exhibition this morning.

Sumner High.

The exercises of the Sumner High School (colored), Eleventh and Spruce, take place this afternoon. The attendance at this school has been excellent. Oscar M. Waring, the principal, has had the following assistants: Elmira Copeland, Gertrude Wright, M. T. Teackle, William H. Gibson, Simon W. Lott, Harrison D. King, Clement G. Morgan, John Silas Freeman, Clara J. Peal, Arzelia Ross, Christine Page and Eliza Page.

The Gravois.

The Gravois, under the care of Miss Anna C. Gates, assisted by Miss Emma J. Green, was very nicely decorated, and a large number of visitors were present at the closing exercises, which were very fine. The Gravois has flourished during the past year under the present management, and the school is on the highway to permanent success.

The Ames and the Dodier.

At these schools there were exhibitions, the principal, Mr. Woodruff, believing in making the last day a pleasant one for the children, and one which they will remember, with something more than a retrospect of routine work. The Ames is one of the largest in the city, and even its capacity was tried to its uttermost to-day.

Carondelet Schools.

The examinations in the public schools in Carondelet are attended by a large number of persons, who are evidently well pleased with the efficient manner in which the schools have been conducted the past season. The exercises at the Kindergarten where of unusual interest during the forenoon.

AN INTERESTING ESSAY ON SKIN DISEASES

As They Exist in This Country,

And the Best Mode of Treatment

To Secure a Speedy and Permanent Cure,

By a Prominent New York Physician.

There is no country in the world where Skin Diseases are so common as in the United States, and where the respectable and cleanly people are so subject to the various Skin Diseases. There are many known causes for this state of things; and one is that, in this country, there is less sulphur found in nature, less in the vegetables and in the water, than in many other countries; and, secondly, there are more people in this country that suffer with nervous diseases than any other, and nervous weakness or irritation is a very fruitful cause of the development of many cases of a certain class of Skin Diseases. There is but one remedy in nature for Skin Diseases, and when that is abundantly found in the water and general articles of food, the disease does not exist to any very great extent, and that remedy is Sulphur, and there is no preparation of Sulphur known to either the public or the profession equal to GLENN'S SULPHUR SOAP; it contains all the active properties of the Sulphur without any of the extraneous or objectionable matter so often found in Sulphur, and is combined with softening and soothing oils that give immediate relief.
